18,000 fans bet a million at race track opening

A ladies crowd of 18,000 race fans welcomed the reopening of beautiful Arlington Park Monday and were treated to an afternoon of racing thrills featured by the procession of long shots that greeted the judges.

The big crowd found a close, muggy day with the threat of rain to welcome back the horses to Arlington. And Arlington was all dressed up for the occasion.

The new odds board with its beautifully landscaped park, the walking ring in the paddock with its border of blooming petunias, the air conditioned dining rooms, the increased seating facilities and improved parking lots, all came in for a lot of favorable comment.

The paddock, where the trees have grown enough so that the place looks like a well shaded grove, was a favorite place where the fans could see the horses saddled and paraded around in the walking ring before the call to the post.

And from the top deck of the grandstand the view of the countryside was never more beautiful with the rich farm lands with their varying shades of green and the wooded background in the distance making a natural setting that called forth many admiring remarks from the fans between races.

Mutuel handle for the day fell slightly short of a million dollars for the largest mutuel handle on opening day in Arlington history. From the welcome received after three years lapse of racing at the local park, it was evident that the most successful meet in Chicago's history is underway.

Saturday of this week a double feature will be staged with the running of the Hyde Park Stakes for 2 year olds for a purse of $20,000 added money at 5½ furlongs, and the Princess Doreen, a $25,000 stake for 3 year old fillies at six furlongs.

Former LaSalle hotel resident moves to Arlington

C. E. Woodard, production manager of the Chicago Daily News and the other newspapers owned by John Knight at Detroit and Akron, Ohio, is now a resident of Arlington Heights. His address is 605 Bristol Lane. Because of their experience in the Hotel LaSalle fire Mr. and Mrs. Woodard are especially glad to get the occupancy of the home which they purchased of Dr. Clearwater last fall.

Their LaSalle rooms were on the 15th floor. Both were awakened by the screaming of women and it is due to the presence of mind of Mr. Woodard that they escaped. After quieting his wife and convincing her that he would find a way to escape, he first filled the bathtub full of water in which blankets could be immersed to protect them from the heat, etc., if it became necessary for them to stand on the balcony outside their rooms.

His next step was to wet bathtowels through which to breath through their mouths, while they held their nose. His first glance into the hallway was not reasuring. Two bodies were lying on the floor and a third man was crawling around in circles with a towel over his head. Smoke was pouring from the elevator shafts.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward started down stairways and it was not until they reached the ninth floor did they locate a fire escape and descend to the ground. They were able to return to their room that evening and found all their belongings safe.

The Woodards are especially thankful that the families of two of their daughters who had come to Chicago to spend the week end with them had left for home the previous day.

Good luck to all...

In leaving Arlington Heights, my home town, I want its citizens and my friends to know that I will be thinking of them in my new home in California. My association with its citizens during the past years have been many and varied, but as we leave Arlington, Mrs. Flentie and I will take with us happy memories of personal friendships that will ever tie us to the folks back home in Arlington.

I have disposed of my interest in the realty firm of Flentie & Behrens to my partner, Carl M. Behrens and my insurance business to Catherine Behrens. I assure my friends and clients that they will receive every consideration and service from my successors.

I thank the people of Arlington Heights for the many honors they have bestowed and for the consideration and support they have given me in the past years.

De Luxe Firestone store opens in Arlington

Lattof's is probably destined to become a household word in northwest Cook county when the people of that area, especially the rural district become acquainted with the Firestone Home and Auto store that N. M. Lattof, Arlington Chevrolet dealer has built and stocked with a complete line of Firstone goods. It is one of the most complete Firestone stores in the metropolitan area.

The store has an area of 5,000 square feet and is brand new throughout. A modern building, modernly equipped and lighted and stocked with thousands of items that interest every housewife in urban and rural communities, laying special stress on auto and farm supplies. A large store room provides additional space for tractor tires and other large equipment.

The store had a preview Wednesday night when several hundred persons gave it the once over. Actual sales of merchandise did not start until Thursday morning.

Frigidaire refrigerators, other household electrical appliances and radios are on display. The store is in reality a department store and gives Arlington another boost upward as a real trading center for northwest Cook county. The store is under the management of Ira Deyman.

This new modern laboratory building with the surrounding landscaping and other plant improvements such as the new lunchroom, new medical dispensary, new continuous enameling furnace and other additions in manufacturing facilities marks the completion of the first phase of a 3-year program of improvement and expansion announced a year ago by the company. In keeping with the trend of the times, additional landscaping and other improvements of the grounds surrounding the plant are part of this plan to be completed in the next two to three years.

According to Hoyt P. Steele, vice president of the company, the new laboratory will be devoted to technological research and the application of new discoveries in the field of illuminating engineering, ceramics and metallurgy to the products of the company.

Arlington Park workers hurt in beer crash

The policy of Arlington Park Jockey Club to provide service to the public misfired last Friday when their hoard of beer and soda became greater than floor supports could withstand and the stock crashed thru to the next floor level. Four employees were injured and taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital, Elgin. They are: Robert Blackburn, 17, of 540 S. Highland, Arlington Heights; Jack Slickenmyer, 17, of 11 S. Elm St., Mt. Prospect; George Janetzke, Jr., 17, of 1605 River Road, Des Plaines and Omer Deal, a Negro, 38, of Lexington, Ky., an exercise boy.

It was no secret about the track that the overload came about because of the scarcity of beer and soda in the open market and the track was anticipating the desires of its clientile. The cases had been stacked nearly as high as the ceiling in an attempt to get as many as possible into the store room.

Mr. Blackburn has returned home, his injuries being cuts and shock. Mr. Schlinkenmyer suffered a deep gash in the hip causing the loss of a lot of blood and also a fracture of the pelvic bone.

Make final plans for July 4th celebration at Arlington Hts.

Arlington Heights will probably entertain the greatest crowd this year in the history of local Indepedence Day celebrations. The committee in charge of the event is making a departure from its usual custom and is depending upon the general patronage of the public for the size of its receipts. The "come on" games are being eliminated and the "button-who-has-got-the-duplicate-button" is being dropped.

In place of the so-called easy money that was 90% profit in other days, the committee is offering a 1946 Chevrolet that will be awarded at eleven p. m. July 4th and other minor games rides and concessions that have proven so popular.

Ball games

Arlington Red Wings have booked the Chicago Parrots for Sunday's game and La Rose Coal Co. for July 4th. There will be a soft ball game Sunday afternoon at 6:30.

Through the cooperation of the Arlington Heights high school band, there will be concerts and entertainment every evening.

July 4th program

The July 4th program opens with a parade at 10 a. m. It will be followed by a patriotic meeting. The features of the day will start at 1:30 with music, followed by the ball game at 3:00, swimming demonstrations at 6:30; concert at 7:30; fireworks at 10 and award of the car at 11:00.

The swimming pool, playground equipment, wading pool, etc., are "natural advantages" of the park that will be added attractions for visitors.

Dancing

Wally Hermes orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing in the field house July 3 and 4. Tickets are 80c each, tax included. Fifty dollars door prizes will be awarded each night.

Community sponsored

The event is community sponsored and all of the net receipts are pledged for community projects. Sixty per cent of the fund will go to the war memorial chest; thirty per cent goes to the recreation fund that makes possible a large part of the supervised summer play and the remaining ten per cent goes to the Youth Center.

Parade plans

Plans are progressing for the mammoth parade in Arlington Heights. There will be several cash awards to children for the best costumes. Each child will receive a flag. The Crystal Lake Drum & Bugle Corps of the VFW will lead the parade. The local high school band, fire department, boy and girl scout troops, together with the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will form the nucleus of the parade.

The line of march will be published in next week's edition of this newspaper, together with the program. The parade forms at the south side grade school, Mitchell ave., at South street at 10 a. m. Stepping off time is 10:15 sharp.

Three to one

Voters OK high school addition

By better than a three to one margin, the voters of Arlington Heights High School District 214 supported the proposed $260,000 addition to the present structure, in a special election held Saturday, June 15.

Voters were presented ballots containing two propositions, first: to build the addition; second, to issue bonds in the amount of $260,000 authorizing same. Detailed results follow:

	For	Against
Proposition 1	324	97
Proposition 2	321	100

In an election that brought forth the heaviest school balloting in many years, the landslide in favor of school improvement was gratifying to parents who realize that the community's facilities for education must not only keep pace with present growth, but look ahead to the day when population, and consequent school enrollment, will be many times its present figure.

Immediately following the close of balloting, school authorities lost no time in drawing up final specifications, in preparation for the advertising for bids, letting contracts, and getting work started on construction which they would like to see completed by the start of the fall term or shortly thereafter.

Add vocational wing

The contemplated addition will add approximately 240 feet to the present high school building, extending north on Walnut street, from the present limits of the building to the edge of the athletic field. Immediately adjacent and connecting, will be a two-story structure for science class rooms and laboratories, an enlarged receiving room and improved shower and dressing room space. The balance will consist of a one-story wing, consisting of biology class room and laboratory, wood working, metal working, machine and farm shop. In the event of possible delays through shortage of materials or labor, the Arlington Heights Board of Education proposes to proceed with the vocational wing at least, since it can be built primarily of so-called "factory construction" and be ready for use this coming school term.

First addition since 1939

The completion of this wing will not only add greatly to the present course of study, but will, as well, remedy a lack that has been consistently pointed out by State Visitors and others qualified in secondary school evaluation. In addition, it will put immediately to use the $50,000 worth of machine tools and equipment obtained by school authorities from the government at approximately $4,500 cost to the district's taxpayers.

The proposed addition will be the first since 1939, an interval that has seen a 40% increase in high school enrollment.

"It is", states high school officials, "no end unto itself, but the first step in a well-integrated program of growth. Such a program over the years, should result in expanding a soundly laid out building without adding too great a tax burden on present property owners for the benefit of future residents. Experts in the field who have studied the present high school agree it is too good to abandon and that such action would be equivalent to throwing aside a million dollar property in favor of a new three, or possibly four, million dollar replacement."

Catherine Behrens insurance broker

Miss Catherine Behrens is the new insurance broker in Arlington Heights. She has taken over the insurance accounts previously handled by J. D. Flentie and Flentie & Behrens: "I still occupy the same desk in the same office," says Miss Behrens, but now I suppose that I can have my name on the desk."

Catherine has been office secretary for her dad and Mr. Flentie for some time. With the dissolution of the firm, Flentie and Behrens, C. M. thinks he will have enough duties to take care of the realty business although he will keep a watchful eye on the business activity of his secretary-daughter.

Green Arlington strawberries stop plane on trip east

An Arlington Heights man who was with the air ground forces was recently discharged. At the suggestion of his mother he went out into the strawberry patch for some of that delicious fruit. He ate heartily in order not to disappoint his mother, but he thought at the time that the berries were more tart than he used to remember them.

He learned "why" the next day when he boarded a through plane for the east. He became so ill that the plane had to make an emergency landing. He is color blind and the berries he had eaten were green.

Two police cars during race meeting

Arlingon Heights residents are not "seeing things" because they see a police car "double". The old and new police cars are in operation and enable double patrolling of streets during the race meet. "With two cars in service would-be wrongdoers will think twice," says Chief Skoog.

Farm youth organize for recreation and information

Spoiled ballot costs Roselle youth center

A single spoiled ballot cost Roselle a new $30,000 community building last Saturday when a special election was held to vote a tax levy to provide for the necessary funds for its erection. With the spoiled ballot thrown out the vote stood 90 for and 90 against, leaving deadlock and technically voiding the election. The village board is expected to take action at its next meeting and ask for another vote on the proposition in 30 days.

While the proposition for a tax levy for a new community building failed, a second proposition asking for a tax levy to provide a recreational and playground system and its maintenance carried by a narrow margin.

The project is fostered by the Roselle post-war plan committee which has already acquired a tract in the village of seven and one-half acres. The site was paid for with money raised from voluntary subscriptions now in excess of $7,000.

The community building and recreation system was launched as a community project last November 8 by the post war plan commission at a public meeting. This committee represents the following groups: Lions club, village board, public school board, PTA, library board, Roselle fire dept., Roselle rural fire league, Roselle garden club , M. E. church, Trinity Lutheran church, Boy scout and Girl scout organizations.

The community building which will be of masonry construction, the materials depending on availability and adaptability, is expected to cost $30,000. It will consist of an auditorium for basketball, dances, banquets, plays, concerts and community events. It will also contain hobby rooms for children and adults. Showers and lockers will be provided for boys and girls. Dining room, kitchen and office will be included.

Some $400 in trees and shrubs have been donated and landscaping will also be done without cost.

Attend firemen's school

Frank Jahn and Geo. Gaare of Arlington Fire Department are attending a State Firemen's School at Champaign this week.

North Cook County Rural Youth are assuming an active part in the development of better rural living. At least this is the opinion of those attending the fourth regular meeting at the Arlington Heights High School, June 14th.

Officers elected for the year were as follows: president, Eleanor Krueger of Mt. Prospect; vice president, Walton Bartels of Elgin; secretary-treasurer, Florence Nightingale of Arlington Heights; publicity director, Jack Bingham of Wheeling, and recreation leader, Melvin Krueger of Mt. Prospect; recreation assistant, Ardelle Wille of Arlington Hgts.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bergman of Palatine are the adult leaders assisting with the organization.

Rural Youth groups are organized throughout most of the counties of Illinois and are doing a splendid job according to Miss Clareta Walker, University of Illinois extension specialist. The purpose of the organization is to develop better citizens and future leaders in rural communities.

Programs are arranged to include (1) a get acquainted session; (2) an educational feature on problems of interest; (3) social entertainment and group recreation.

New members attending this meeting were Allen Jepson of Wheeling; Helen Tredup of Elgin; Andrew Sokolowski of Roselle; Irene Tredup, Elgin.

The next Rural Youth meeting will be a business meeting and Lawn Party combined, to be held on July 19th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bergman, Algonquin and Ela Roads, Palatine. Any rural young people interested in joining the Rural Youth group are urged to attend this next meeting.

Brownies to take over day camp at Elk Grove

The morning of June 24 will be a time eagerly anticipated by more than one hundred Brownie Girl Scouts because it will be the opening of their week at Elk Grove Day Camp. Registrants will include Brownies from Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights, under the supervision of a group of well trained unit leaders. Those comprising this list of leaders are the following: Mrs. J. H. Bridenthrall, Mrs. Lewis Draper, Mrs. W. H. Rowland, Mrs. Roger Ryden, Mrs. Angeloff, and Mrs. Frank Leth, all of Arlington Heights; Mrs. Daniel Borgen, Mrs. M. A. Sporleder, Mrs. P. W. Ross, Mrs. Albert Kerschke, Mrs Nelson, Mrs. Glen Hargrave and Mrs. Trygve Maseng, all of Mt. Prospect.

"World Fellowship" is the theme of a great deal of this season's camp. The pattern is being followed in program material including dramatics, games and group songs. This furthers the plan of National Girl Scouting in an effort to acquaint the junior citizens with customs of other countries.

A modern version of the age-old "Let's Pretend", these games enliven the daily activities at Day Camp while they aid in international understanding. The various units of the local camp are identified by names of countries from all points of the world, and the contributions of these groups interpret the country represented in dramatics, folk songs or dancing.

An opportunity for parents or interested friends to witness some of these features is provided Thursday afternoon of this week's camp, and Thursday of Brownie week, also. It is hoped that parents will avail themselves of the opportunity to share a small part of camp life with their daughters by their presence from one-thirty until the closing of the program.

Mrs. Ellsworth A. Meineke, camp chairman, has arranged bus transportation to leave each day at 8:45 a. m. from North School, and 9 a. m. from the Scarsdale Real Estate office on S. State rd. Return trips have been planned also. Promptness will be necessary in order to have the convenience of this feature of camp life.

Shoofly pie and apple pan dowdy

Shoofly pie and apple pan dowdy are on the lips of many an adult today, with especially the teen-agers humming that popular song.

But for the recipes of those two goodies the readers of Paddock Publications are urged to turn to Mary McArdle's Just Around the Corner column on page nine of this week's editions.

Calling all teen-agers

Youth center's 'Night Club' to have radio stars, dancers

Arlington Heights youth center is going "all out" for its biggest splurge of its short history Saturday night. "Night Club" night with dancing, an "MC", and a complete floor show is expected to draw the largest crowd of teen-agers ever entertained at "Ramble Inn".

"Girls will wear heels" is the teenage interpretation of the semi-formal affair. That means a lot to the young girls who are itching to wear their best dresses and go dancing.

Besides Wally Hermes orchestra for dancing, a group of radio personalities will provide the floor show that sounds as if it will match entertainment at any club in Chicago. Dancers from B & K television studios and Frank Morgan's dance studios, including his outstanding team of "Cass and Gray", will highlight the show.

Master of ceremonies will be Bob Baron, singer, dancer, and comedian, who recently returned from a Broadway play to write script for television in Chicago. "Bob" doesn't look much older than a "teen-ager" himself, and seems to have plenty of pep, states Muriel Mills, youth center director.

Additional entertainment is still being subscribed by the youth center committee. A television "slide", and pictures by a city news photographer are expected to cover the affair.

Non-members of the youth center and young people of neighboring towns are welcome to purchase tickets from members or at the door.

"Ramble Inn" opened its summer season Wednesday night and proved an even more popular place for the young people to meet, now that schools are closed. The members are working hard to make their new "Night Club", a success, as a forerunner of similar events in the future. Saturday night's event will begin at 7:30 and close at midnight.

Subscriptions $2.50 July 1

Paddock Publications are this week announcing a change in subscription rates for all editions, with the ante of $2.50 per year effective July 1.

For twenty-five years the Paddock newspapers have been mailed for $2.00 a year. During war time costs of material and wages rose, but the publishers strove to keep the annual subscription price level.

Since January 1, however, costs have risen an additional twenty percent. The publishers have thrown in the towel. The new rate will be $2.50.

Those wishing to pay in advance at the old rate can do so this month with a two year maximum payment permitted.

He has been appointed counselor for ten churches of the northwest suburban areas of Chicago. Under his jurisdiction come Park Ridge, Norwood Park, Edison Park, Irving Park, Des Plaines, Palatine, Barrington and Arlington Heights.

18,000 fans bet a million at race track opening

A ladies crowd of 18,000 race fans welcomed the reopening of beautiful Arlington Park Monday and were treated to an afternoon of racing thrills featured by the procession of long shots that greeted the judges.

The big crowd found a close, muggy day with the threat of rain to welcome back the horses to Arlington. And Arlington was all dressed up for the occasion.

The new odds board with its beautifully landscaped park, the walking ring in the paddock with its border of blooming petunias, the air conditioned dining rooms, the increased seating facilities and improved parking lots, all came in for a lot of favorable comment.

The paddock, where the trees have grown enough so that the place looks like a well shaded grove, was a favorite place where the fans could see the horses saddled and paraded around in the walking ring before the call to the post.

And from the top deck of the grandstand the view of the countryside was never more beautiful with the rich farm lands with their varying shades of green and the wooded background in the distance making a natural setting that called forth many admiring remarks from the fans between races.

Mutuel handle for the day fell slightly short of a million dollars for the largest mutuel handle on opening day in Arlington history. From the welcome received after three years lapse of racing at the local park, it was evident that the most successful meet in Chicago's history is underway.

Saturday of this week a double feature will be staged with the running of the Hyde Park Stakes for 2 year olds for a purse of $20,000 added money at 5½ furlongs, and the Princess Doreen, a $25,000 stake for 3 year old fillies at six furlongs.

Former LaSalle hotel resident moves to Arlington

C. E. Woodard, production manager of the Chicago Daily News and the other newspapers owned by John Knight at Detroit and Akron, Ohio, is now a resident of Arlington Heights. His address is 605 Bristol Lane. Because of their experience in the Hotel LaSalle fire Mr. and Mrs. Woodard are especially glad to get the occupancy of the home which they purchased of Dr. Clearwater last fall.

Their LaSalle rooms were on the 15th floor. Both were awakened by the screaming of women and it is due to the presence of mind of Mr. Woodard that they escaped. After quieting his wife and convincing her that he would find a way to escape, he first filled the bathtub full of water in which blankets could be immersed to protect them from the heat, etc., if it became necessary for them to stand on the balcony outside their rooms.

His next step was to wet bathtowels through which to breath through their mouths, while they held their nose. His first glance into the hallway was not reasuring. Two bodies were lying on the floor and a third man was crawling around in circles with a towel over his head. Smoke was pouring from the elevator shafts.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward started down stairways and it was not until they reached the ninth floor did they locate a fire escape and descend to the ground. They were able to return to their room that evening and found all their belongings safe.

The Woodards are especially thankful that the families of two of their daughters who had come to Chicago to spend the week end with them had left for home the previous day.

Good luck to all...

In leaving Arlington Heights, my home town, I want its citizens and my friends to know that I will be thinking of them in my new home in California. My association with its citizens during the past years have been many and varied, but as we leave Arlington, Mrs. Flentie and I will take with us happy memories of personal friendships that will ever tie us to the folks back home in Arlington.

I have disposed of my interest in the realty firm of Flentie & Behrens to my partner, Carl M. Behrens and my insurance business to Catherine Behrens. I assure my friends and clients that they will receive every consideration and service from my successors.

I thank the people of Arlington Heights for the many honors they have bestowed and for the consideration and support they have given me in the past years.

De Luxe Firestone store opens in Arlington

Lattof's is probably destined to become a household word in northwest Cook county when the people of that area, especially the rural district become acquainted with the Firestone Home and Auto store that N. M. Lattof, Arlington Chevrolet dealer has built and stocked with a complete line of Firstone goods. It is one of the most complete Firestone stores in the metropolitan area.

The store has an area of 5,000 square feet and is brand new throughout. A modern building, modernly equipped and lighted and stocked with thousands of items that interest every housewife in urban and rural communities, laying special stress on auto and farm supplies. A large store room provides additional space for tractor tires and other large equipment.

The store had a preview Wednesday night when several hundred persons gave it the once over. Actual sales of merchandise did not start until Thursday morning.

Frigidaire refrigerators, other household electrical appliances and radios are on display. The store is in reality a department store and gives Arlington another boost upward as a real trading center for northwest Cook county. The store is under the management of Ira Deyman.

Benjamin Electric to dedicate new lab Wednesday

In celebration of its 45th anniversary, Benjamin will dedicate its new Testing and Development Laboratory next Wednesday afternoon, June 26. Civic and business leaders of neighboring communities will make an inspection tour of the laboratory and plant and be guests at the dedication ceremonies. On the following two days there will be an open house and inspection tour for the families of the employees and their guests. Tickets are available from any employee of the company.

This new modern laboratory building with the surrounding landscaping and other plant improvements such as the new lunchroom, new medical dispensary, new continuous enameling furnace and other additions in manufacturing facilities marks the completion of the first phase of a 3-year program of improvement and expansion announced a year ago by the company. In keeping with the trend of the times, additional landscaping and other improvements of the grounds surrounding the plant are part of this plan to be completed in the next two to three years.

According to Hoyt P. Steele, vice president of the company, the new laboratory will be devoted to technological research and the application of new discoveries in the field of illuminating engineering, ceramics and metallurgy to the products of the company.

Arlington Park workers hurt in beer crash

The policy of Arlington Park Jockey Club to provide service to the public misfired last Friday when their hoard of beer and soda became greater than floor supports could withstand and the stock crashed thru to the next floor level. Four employees were injured and taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital, Elgin. They are: Robert Blackburn, 17, of 540 S. Highland, Arlington Heights; Jack Slickenmyer, 17, of 11 S. Elm St., Mt. Prospect; George Janetzke, Jr., 17, of 1605 River Road, Des Plaines and Omer Deal, a Negro, 38, of Lexington, Ky., an exercise boy.

It was no secret about the track that the overload came about because of the scarcity of beer and soda in the open market and the track was anticipating the desires of its clientile. The cases had been stacked nearly as high as the ceiling in an attempt to get as many as possible into the store room.

Mr. Blackburn has returned home, his injuries being cuts and shock. Mr. Schlinkenmyer suffered a deep gash in the hip causing the loss of a lot of blood and also a fracture of the pelvic bone.

Make final plans for July 4th celebration at Arlington Hts.

Arlington Heights will probably entertain the greatest crowd this year in the history of local Indepedence Day celebrations. The committee in charge of the event is making a departure from its usual custom and is depending upon the general patronage of the public for the size of its receipts. The "come on" games are being eliminated and the "button-who-has-got-the-duplicate-button" is being dropped.

In place of the so-called easy money that was 90% profit in other days, the committee is offering a 1946 Chevrolet that will be awarded at eleven p. m. July 4th and other minor games rides and concessions that have proven so popular.

Ball games

Arlington Red Wings have booked the Chicago Parrots for Sunday's game and La Rose Coal Co. for July 4th. There will be a soft ball game Sunday afternoon at 6:30.

Through the cooperation of the Arlington Heights high school band, there will be concerts and entertainment every evening.

July 4th program

The July 4th program opens with a parade at 10 a. m. It will be followed by a patriotic meeting. The features of the day will start at 1:30 with music, followed by the ball game at 3:00, swimming demonstrations at 6:30; concert at 7:30; fireworks at 10 and award of the car at 11:00.

The swimming pool, playground equipment, wading pool, etc., are "natural advantages" of the park that will be added attractions for visitors.

Dancing

Wally Hermes orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing in the field house July 3 and 4. Tickets are 80c each, tax included. Fifty dollars door prizes will be awarded each night.

Community sponsored

The event is community sponsored and all of the net receipts are pledged for community projects. Sixty per cent of the fund will go to the war memorial chest; thirty per cent goes to the recreation fund that makes possible a large part of the supervised summer play and the remaining ten per cent goes to the Youth Center.

Parade plans

Plans are progressing for the mammoth parade in Arlington Heights. There will be several cash awards to children for the best costumes. Each child will receive a flag. The Crystal Lake Drum & Bugle Corps of the VFW will lead the parade. The local high school band, fire department, boy and girl scout troops, together with the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will form the nucleus of the parade.

The line of march will be published in next week's edition of this newspaper, together with the program. The parade forms at the south side grade school, Mitchell ave., at South street at 10 a. m. Stepping off time is 10:15 sharp.

Three to one

Voters OK high school addition

By better than a three to one margin, the voters of Arlington Heights High School District 214 supported the proposed $260,000 addition to the present structure, in a special election held Saturday, June 15.

Voters were presented ballots containing two propositions, first: to build the addition; second, to issue bonds in the amount of $260,000 authorizing same. Detailed results follow:

	For	Against
Proposition 1	324	97
Proposition 2	321	100

In an election that brought forth the heaviest school balloting in many years, the landslide in favor of school improvement was gratifying to parents who realize that the community's facilities for education must not only keep pace with present growth, but look ahead to the day when population, and consequent school enrollment, will be many times its present figure.

Immediately following the close of balloting, school authorities lost no time in drawing up final specifications, in preparation for the advertising for bids, letting contracts, and getting work started on construction which they would like to see completed by the start of the fall term or shortly thereafter.

Add vocational wing

The contemplated addition will add approximately 240 feet to the present high school building, extending north on Walnut street, from the present limits of the building to the edge of the athletic field. Immediately adjacent and connecting, will be a two-story structure for science class rooms and laboratories, an enlarged receiving room and improved shower and dressing room space. The balance will consist of a one-story wing, consisting of biology class room and laboratory, wood working, metal working, machine and farm shop. In the event of possible delays through shortage of materials or labor, the Arlington Heights Board of Education proposes to proceed with the vocational wing at least, since it can be built primarily of so-called "factory construction" and be ready for use this coming school term.

First addition since 1939

The completion of this wing will not only add greatly to the present course of study, but will, as well, remedy a lack that has been consistently pointed out by State Visitors and others qualified in secondary school evaluation. In addition, it will put immediately to use the $50,000 worth of machine tools and equipment obtained by school authorities from the government at approximately $4,500 cost to the district's taxpayers.

The proposed addition will be the first since 1939, an interval that has seen a 40% increase in high school enrollment.

"It is", states high school officials, "no end unto itself, but the first step in a well-integrated program of growth. Such a program over the years, should result in expanding a soundly laid out building without adding too great a tax burden on present property owners for the benefit of future residents. Experts in the field who have studied the present high school agree it is too good to abandon and that such action would be equivalent to throwing aside a million dollar property in favor of a new three, or possibly four, million dollar replacement."

Catherine Behrens insurance broker

Miss Catherine Behrens is the new insurance broker in Arlington Heights. She has taken over the insurance accounts previously handled by J. D. Flentie and Flentie & Behrens: "I still occupy the same desk in the same office," says Miss Behrens, but now I suppose that I can have my name on the desk."

Catherine has been office secretary for her dad and Mr. Flentie for some time. With the dissolution of the firm, Flentie and Behrens, C. M. thinks he will have enough duties to take care of the realty business although he will keep a watchful eye on the business activity of his secretary-daughter.

Green Arlington strawberries stop plane on trip east

An Arlington Heights man who was with the air ground forces was recently discharged. At the suggestion of his mother he went out into the strawberry patch for some of that delicious fruit. He ate heartily in order not to disappoint his mother, but he thought at the time that the berries were more tart than he used to remember them.

He learned "why" the next day when he boarded a through plane for the east. He became so ill that the plane had to make an emergency landing. He is color blind and the berries he had eaten were green.

Two police cars during race meeting

Arlingon Heights residents are not "seeing things" because they see a police car "double". The old and new police cars are in operation and enable double patrolling of streets during the race meet. "With two cars in service would-be wrongdoers will think twice," says Chief Skoog.

Farm youth organize for recreation and information

North Cook County Rural Youth are assuming an active part in the development of better rural living. At least this is the opinion of those attending the fourth regular meeting at the Arlington Heights High School, June 14th.

Officers elected for the year were as follows: president, Eleanor Krueger of Mt. Prospect; vice president, Walton Bartels of Elgin; secretary-treasurer, Florence Nightingale of Arlington Heights; publicity director, Jack Bingham of Wheeling, and recreation leader, Melvin Krueger of Mt. Prospect; recreation assistant, Ardelle Wille of Arlington Hgts.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bergman of Palatine are the adult leaders assisting with the organization.

Rural Youth groups are organized throughout most of the counties of Illinois and are doing a splendid job according to Miss Clareta Walker, University of Illinois extension specialist. The purpose of the organization is to develop better citizens and future leaders in rural communities.

Programs are arranged to include (1) a get acquainted session; (2) an educational feature on problems of interest; (3) social entertainment and group recreation.

New members attending this meeting were Allen Jepson of Wheeling; Helen Tredup of Elgin; Andrew Sokolowski of Roselle; Irene Tredup, Elgin.

The next Rural Youth meeting will be a business meeting and Lawn Party combined, to be held on July 19th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bergman, Algonquin and Ela Roads, Palatine. Any rural young people interested in joining the Rural Youth group are urged to attend this next meeting.

Spoiled ballot costs Roselle youth center

A single spoiled ballot cost Roselle a new $30,000 community building last Saturday when a special election was held to vote a tax levy to provide for the necessary funds for its erection. With the spoiled ballot thrown out the vote stood 90 for and 90 against, leaving deadlock and technically voiding the election. The village board is expected to take action at its next meeting and ask for another vote on the proposition in 30 days.

While the proposition for a tax levy for a new community building failed, a second proposition asking for a tax levy to provide a recreational and playground system and its maintenance carried by a narrow margin.

The project is fostered by the Roselle post-war plan committee which has already acquired a tract in the village of seven and one-half acres. The site was paid for with money raised from voluntary subscriptions now in excess of $7,000.

The community building and recreation system was launched as a community project last November 8 by the post war plan commission at a public meeting. This committee represents the following groups: Lions club, village board, public school board, PTA, library board, Roselle fire dept., Roselle rural fire league, Roselle garden club , M. E. church, Trinity Lutheran church, Boy scout and Girl scout organizations.

The community building which will be of masonry construction, the materials depending on availability and adaptability, is expected to cost $30,000. It will consist of an auditorium for basketball, dances, banquets, plays, concerts and community events. It will also contain hobby rooms for children and adults. Showers and lockers will be provided for boys and girls. Dining room, kitchen and office will be included.

Some $400 in trees and shrubs have been donated and landscaping will also be done without cost.

Attend firemen's school

Frank Jahn and Geo. Gaare of Arlington Fire Department are attending a State Firemen's School at Champaign this week.

Brownies to take over day camp at Elk Grove

The morning of June 24 will be a time eagerly anticipated by more than one hundred Brownie Girl Scouts because it will be the opening of their week at Elk Grove Day Camp. Registrants will include Brownies from Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights, under the supervision of a group of well trained unit leaders. Those comprising this list of leaders are the following: Mrs. J. H. Bridenthrall, Mrs. Lewis Draper, Mrs. W. H. Rowland, Mrs. Roger Ryden, Mrs. Angeloff, and Mrs. Frank Leth, all of Arlington Heights; Mrs. Daniel Borgen, Mrs. M. A. Sporleder, Mrs. P. W. Ross, Mrs. Albert Kerschke, Mrs Nelson, Mrs. Glen Hargrave and Mrs. Trygve Maseng, all of Mt. Prospect.

"World Fellowship" is the theme of a great deal of this season's camp. The pattern is being followed in program material including dramatics, games and group songs. This furthers the plan of National Girl Scouting in an effort to acquaint the junior citizens with customs of other countries.

A modern version of the age-old "Let's Pretend", these games enliven the daily activities at Day Camp while they aid in international understanding. The various units of the local camp are identified by names of countries from all points of the world, and the contributions of these groups interpret the country represented in dramatics, folk songs or dancing.

An opportunity for parents or interested friends to witness some of these features is provided Thursday afternoon of this week's camp, and Thursday of Brownie week, also. It is hoped that parents will avail themselves of the opportunity to share a small part of camp life with their daughters by their presence from one-thirty until the closing of the program.

Mrs. Ellsworth A. Meineke, camp chairman, has arranged bus transportation to leave each day at 8:45 a. m. from North School, and 9 a. m. from the Scarsdale Real Estate office on S. State rd. Return trips have been planned also. Promptness will be necessary in order to have the convenience of this feature of camp life.

Shoofly pie and apple pan dowdy

Shoofly pie and apple pan dowdy are on the lips of many an adult today, with especially the teen-agers humming that popular song.

But for the recipes of those two goodies the readers of Paddock Publications are urged to turn to Mary McArdle's Just Around the Corner column on page nine of this week's editions.

Calling all teen-agers

Youth center's 'Night Club' to have radio stars, dancers

Arlington Heights youth center is going "all out" for its biggest splurge of its short history Saturday night. "Night Club" night with dancing, an "MC", and a complete floor show is expected to draw the largest crowd of teen-agers ever entertained at "Ramble Inn".

"Girls will wear heels" is the teenage interpretation of the semi-formal affair. That means a lot to the young girls who are itching to wear their best dresses and go dancing.

Besides Wally Hermes orchestra for dancing, a group of radio personalities will provide the floor show that sounds as if it will match entertainment at any club in Chicago. Dancers from B & K television studios and Frank Morgan's dance studios, including his outstanding team of "Cass and Gray", will highlight the show.

Master of ceremonies will be Bob Baron, singer, dancer, and comedian, who recently returned from a Broadway play to write script for television in Chicago. "Bob" doesn't look much older than a "teen-ager" himself, and seems to have plenty of pep, states Muriel Mills, youth center director.

Additional entertainment is still being subscribed by the youth center committee. A television "slide", and pictures by a city news photographer are expected to cover the affair.

Non-members of the youth center and young people of neighboring towns are welcome to purchase tickets from members or at the door.

"Ramble Inn" opened its summer season Wednesday night and proved an even more popular place for the young people to meet, now that schools are closed. The members are working hard to make their new "Night Club", a success, as a forerunner of similar events in the future. Saturday night's event will begin at 7:30 and close at midnight.

Subscriptions $2.50 July 1

Paddock Publications are this week announcing a change in subscription rates for all editions, with the ante of $2.50 per year effective July 1.

For twenty-five years the Paddock newspapers have been mailed for $2.00 a year. During war time costs of material and wages rose, but the publishers strove to keep the annual subscription price level.

Since January 1, however, costs have risen an additional twenty percent. The publishers have thrown in the towel. The new rate will be $2.50.

Those wishing to pay in advance at the old rate can do so this month with a two year maximum payment permitted.

St. Mary's picnic July 4th week

St. Mary's school, Buffalo Grove, one mile north of Dundee road on Route 83, will hold their annual home-coming picnic July 4 and 5. Choice chicken or beef dinners will be served Thursday, July 4, from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m.

There will be games and fun for all. The softball game will start at 1 p. m.

When the doctor finds that you need that extra something which is quickly and subtly available from the proper use of Vitamins he will prescribe.

He will counsel you which of the Vitamins you lack. He will tell you how to take them and how often. Indiscriminate use of Vitamins, buying at random, taking them just when you happen to remember, is apt to be a waste of time and money.

It is a judicious purchase, the regular use, the strict routine which counts and gives you that extra something you need.

The doctor can tell you the names of ethical firms producing the various Vitamins or you can get this information from a trusted druggist.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 16, was:

"GOD THE PRESERVER OF MAN"

The Golden Text was:

"Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me" (Ps. 40: 11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber . . . The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul. The Lord preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore" (Ps. 121: 1-3, 5-8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"God fashions all things, after His own likeness. Life is reflected in existence, Truth in truthfulness, God in goodness, which impart their own peace and permanence . . . The relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from, nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history" (pp. 516, 470).

Scouts participate in NW council camporee

Two hundred fifty-three scouts participated in this year's Northwest Suburban Council Camporee, held at Camp Baden-Powell June 14-15-16. The camporee was directed by Otto E. Harz, Chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee.

Upon registration, Scouts were assigned Troop camp sites, pitched their tents and began preparation for the week-end activities. The first evening featured a "Night Commando Trail" and a movie sound film entitled "Survival". Saturday morning began a series of 8 projects, in which each patrol was to participate in 4. Tracking and nature identification were the two projects given in the morning. Other projects (map making, signaling, knot tying, first aid, fire by friction and fire by flint and steel) were conducted in the afternoon.

The camp fire Saturday night was conducted entirely by Whirling Thunder, a Winnebago Indian and former scout. In full ceremonial costume, Whirling Thunder demonstrated Indian dances, language and ceremony and explained many of his tribe's traditions and how scouting makes use of some of the ideals and skills of the early American Indian.

Non-denominational church services were held Sunday morning, with Reverend R. K. Wobbe of Des Plaines as the guest speaker. Mass for scouts of Catholic faith was held at St. Mary's training school.

A "Kangaroo Court" for scouts who violated Camporee rules was conducted by Byron C. Foote as judge, Art Wiedeman as defense attorney, Bob Pratt as prosecuting attorney and T. R. Smith as bailiff. Appropriate punishment tasks were assigned to scouts who were adjudged guilty.

Kelly's Kolumn

I'm beginning to believe there's nothing like the Merchant Marine. Talk about experience! We last saw Gordon Carncross six months ago at Christmas time. Since then he's been seeing how the other half of the world lives. He always was a good story teller, being an Edgar Allen Poe addict but you should hear him now. His adventure sagas are even better first hand.

Gordon, equipped with a hazy two years high school Spanish and a good accent, was able to converse with some "muy intersante" (all that's left of my two years) people in Old Spain. One young fellow admiring his ship struck up a conversation. It turned he had an aunt and uncle in the States and asked Gordon to look them up, giving him their address. When Gordon arrived in New York he went to the address and found himself in a penthouse such as you find only in New York and the movies.

The aunt and uncle were none other than the famous dance team of Antonio and Rosario. Gordon was treated like the only white man on a South Sea island. All he had to do was mention he liked Spanish food and he was promptly wined and dined the next Sunday.

Back to Italy—He says the people haven't any illusions about their neighbors' honest intentions. They wear every piece of clothing they own. Wonder if they carry a portable larder for any extra food.

Food—over there that's about as common as a refrigerator at the North Pole. When his ship docked at Seville, Spain, women would wait till the tide brought the boat level with the docks so they could sneak aboard and carry off the garbage in pails. Such is life in Europe.

Gordon is now home on furlough "till he gets ready to go back."

There have been many varied comments on my article about high school class picnics in the Hi Times Column two weeks ago. There are those who didn't like the publicity A-tall because it hit home. All I've got to say is, if the shoe fits, wear it. Others thought the idea of a planned, all day picnic at a lake was right on center. Then some thought there might be something else a class could do to polish off the school year. Well, come on: If you've got any ideas, put them in mothballs this summer—then turn them in to your class officers next fall. Don't hoard 'em!

Gene Stroker isn't so dumb. He transferred from the V-5 program to the regular Navy recently and is now stationed in the past office at Great Lakes. The "angle" is, he will probably be discharged some time in September whereas otherwise the Navy would lay claim to all his waking hours for the next 3 or 4 years. That's using the old bean for something besides a hat-rack.

Cpl. Richard H. Leimetter arrived home Tuesday with his furlough lasting until July 5. He has been serving the Swingsters, recruiting service orchestra, as a pianist.

Uninsured drivers kill 89 persons

More than $76,000 has been posted as security by 317 motorists under the new state drivers' safety financial responsibility law, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett has announced. The motorists have posted the money to protect their driving rights pending settlement of damages arising out of automobile accidents. Motorists certified to post security are those who were without proper financial responsibility, in the form of insurance, at the time they were involved in accidents.

The 317 drivers are among a total of 8,179 who have been certified to post security since the law went into effect January 1, 1946. Secretary Barrett stated that more motorists were certified during the month of May than during any other month since the law went on state books. He said that the number of deaths as a result of accidents in which uninsured drivers were involved is 89.

Dorcas Aid honors departing pastor

Rev. and Mrs. Fricke were honored last week by the Dorcas Aid with a farewell party. A generous purse was presented to the departing pastor with the following poem which shows the high esteem in which he and his wife are held:

TO OUR BELOVED DEPARTING PASTOR

We have gathered here this evening,
—To give thanks with heart and soul,
For the many, many blessings
That our Lord on you bestowed.

Oh, How many were the children
That in Baptism you did bring,
To their Saviour, their Redeemer
Washed and cleansed from all their sin.

Then in school and bible classes,
Tenderly you nursed the seed,
And in love and true affection
Fitted them for christian fields.

As they grew in strength and wisdom,
Carefully you guided them
Along the path as God's dear children
True in doctrine that Christ us sent.
Then, in joy and real contentment,

As they came to you as bride and groom
In holy wedlock you did join them
With blessings for a life anew.
When later evil spirits threatened
To wreck their happy married life,
Then you, their ever faithful guardian
Through sincere prayers healed the strife.

Oh, how many old and feeble
Who, burdened down with years of toil
When grief and trials and tribulations
Brought longing for to leave this soil.

Then you, their ever loving shepherd
All final dangers to forestall
On bended knees in fervent prayer
Prepared them for their Saviour's call.

And so to you, dear Faithful pastor
We offer our sincerest thanks,
For the many, many blessings
Through which our parish was enhanced.

For nineteen years you've labored for us
For nineteen years your love endured,
For nineteen years you brought the Saviour
Through whom salvation is assured.

And so we plead, in sincerest prayer,
Oh Father, do abide with him
Grant him health, strength, endurance, courage,
And finally the Crown Of Life grant him.

From your ever thankful friends.
Louis C. Schroeder.

Arlene Nagel to Melrose Park

June 29 Arlene Nagel, known as Teller No. 2 at Arlington Hts. National Bank, will say goodbye to Arlington. Miss Nagel began work at the bank in September of 1940. Recently she left her position at the bank to become secretary to Rev. T. W. Strieter, executive director of the Lutheran Commission for Prisoners of War. On Saturdays she continued to help out at the bank. Five months ago Rev. Strieter's office was closed and Arlene resumed her former position at the bank.

Arlene will move to Melrose Park to become the secretary of St. Paul Lutheran church, Rev. Paul and Markus Kluender, pastors. St. Paul Lutheran church has a membership of 2,300 communicants and fosters a parish school of 465 children. The church secretary has a big job before her and will be called upon to use her excellent talents.

Arlene is well known to the Lutheran church of Northern Illinois and elsewhere through her activities in the Walther League. For several years she edited a weekly column in the Herald. She will also be remembered as the editor-in-chief of the prize winning Servicemen's Paper "Buddies", published under the sponsorship of St. Peter Lutheran church.

Vets should apply now for blanks

To avoid the possibility of Veterans Administration offices being swamped by too many applications at the last minute, veterans who plan to attend school for the first time next Fall should apply at once for their certificates of eligibility, VA officials said today.

A veteran can obtain an application form for education or training by writing to the regional office, or nearest sub-regional office, in the state in which he resides.

When he has filled out the form, he should mail it to the same office from which it was obtained. This office then will process it and will mail to the veteran a certificate of eligibility which he should take with him when he enrolls in school.

While VA regulations do not require the veteran to have a certificate of eligibility before he enrolls, many schools are requesting that the veterans have these certificates before admitting them as students. When a school accepts a certificate of eligibility and forwards it to the VA, it becomes the basis for payment of the veteran's tuition, fees and supplies to the school and of the subsistence allowance to the veteran.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 16, was:

"GOD THE PRESERVER OF MAN"

The Golden Text was:

"Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me" (Ps. 40: 11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber . . . The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul. The Lord preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore" (Ps. 121: 1-3, 5-8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"God fashions all things, after His own likeness. Life is reflected in existence, Truth in truthfulness, God in goodness, which impart their own peace and permanence . . . The relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from, nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history" (pp. 516, 470).

Dorcas Aid honors departing pastor

Rev. and Mrs. Fricke were honored last week by the Dorcas Aid with a farewell party. A generous purse was presented to the departing pastor with the following poem which shows the high esteem in which he and his wife are held:

TO OUR BELOVED DEPARTING PASTOR

We have gathered here this evening
—To give thanks with heart and soul,
For the many, many blessings
That our Lord on you bestowed.

Oh, How many were the children
That in Baptism you did bring,
To their Saviour, their Redeemer
Washed and cleansed from all their sin.

Then in school and bible classes,
Tenderly you nursed the seed,
And in love and true affection
Fitted them for christian fields.

As they grew in strength and wisdom,
Carefully you guided them
Along the path as God's dear children
True in doctrine that Christ us sent.
Then, in joy and real contentment,

As they came to you as bride and groom
In holy wedlock you did join them
With blessings for a life anew.

When later evil spirits threatened
To wreck their happy married life,
Then you, their ever faithful guardian
Through sincere prayers healed the strife.

Oh, how many old and feeble
Who, burdened down with years of toil
When grief and trials and tribulations
Brought longing for to leave this soil.

Then you, their ever loving shepherd
All final dangers to forestall
On bended knees in fervent prayer
Prepared them for their Saviour's call.

And so to you, dear Faithful pastor
We offer our sincerest thanks,
For the many, many blessings
Through which our parish was enhanced.

For nineteen years you've labored for us
For nineteen years your love endured,
For nineteen years you brought the Saviour
Through whom salvation is assured.

And so we plead, in sincerest prayer,
Oh Father, do abide with him
Grant him health, strength, endurance, courage,
And finally the Crown Of Life grant him.

From your ever thankful friends,
Louis C. Schroeder.

Arlene Nagel to Melrose Park

June 29 Arlene Nagel, known as Teller No. 2 at Arlington Hts. National Bank, will say goodbye to Arlington. Miss Nagel began work at the bank in September of 1940. Recently she left her position at the bank to become secretary to Rev. T. W. Strieter, executive director of the Lutheran Commission for Prisoners of War. On Saturdays she continued to help out at the bank. Five months ago Rev. Strieter's office was closed and Arlene resumed her former position at the bank.

Arlene will move to Melrose Park to become the secretary of St. Paul Lutheran church, Rev. Paul and Markus Kluender, pastors. St. Paul Lutheran church has a membership of 2,300 communicants and fosters a parish school of 465 children. The church secretary has a big job before her and will be called upon to use her excellent talents.

Arlene is well known to the Lutheran church of Northern Illinois and elsewhere through her activities in the Walther League. For several years she edited a weekly column in the Herald. She will also be remembered as the editor-in-chief of the prize winning Servicemen's Paper "Buddies", published under the sponsorship of St. Peter Lutheran church.

Vets should apply now for blanks

To avoid the possibility of Veterans Administration offices being swamped by too many applications at the last minute, veterans who plan to attend school for the first time next Fall should apply at once for their certificates of eligibility, VA officials said today.

A veteran can obtain an application form for education or training by writing to the regional office, or nearest sub-regional office, in the state in which he resides.

When he has filled out the form, he should mail it to the same office from which it was obtained. This office then will process it and will mail to the veteran a certificate of eligibility which he should take with him when he enrolls in school.

While VA regulations do not require the veteran to have a certificate of eligibility before he enrolls, many schools are requesting that the veterans have these certificates before admitting them as students. When a school accepts a certificate of eligibility and forwards it to the VA, it becomes the basis for payment of the veteran's tuition, fees and supplies to the school and of the subsistence allowance to the veteran.

Rev. Harry C. Fricke family leaves Arlington Heights

After 19 years of residence in Arlington Heights the Rev. Harry C. Fricke family moved Tuesday to their new home at 1321 S. 56th Ct., Cicero. The pastor will be formally installed in his new charge, Faith Lutheran church at 37th St. and 61st Ave. Sunday, June 23, 4 p. m., by the Visitor of the Circuit, the Rev. Wm. Gahl, in the public school auditorium one block south of the chapel.

His old friend, Pastor Otto F. Arndt, will preach the sermon. After the service the ladies of the church will serve a Sunday supper.

Pastor Fricke and his family regret the necessity of leaving this city of good neighbors and express their sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown by members and neighbors.

Close-up view of entrance to new Benjamin Electric Development and Testing Laboratory which also houses a reception room for plant visitors and a conference room.

As part of its 45th Anniversary celebration, Benjamin Electric Mfg. Company of Des Plaines, Illinois, will dedicate this ultra-modern, $100,000 development and testing laboratory on June 26, 1946.

New Benjamin experimental lab to be dedicated next Wednesday

Dedicated to the advancement of the science and art of illumination, the laboratory building designed by Perkins and Will, architects and engineers houses an Electrical Section, a Physical Test Section, a Photometric Laboratory, an Acoustical Laboratory, a Model Shop and a meeting room for engineering and other conferences.

The modern two story building with the large window, visible going north on the highway, houses the Electrical Section and Physical Test Section with instruments for measuring hardness, tensile and torsional strength of steel, Finish Hardness Testers, Insulation Resistance Meters, Weather-Ometer, Salt Spray Machine, Humidity Test Chamber, Temperature Control Chamber and other facilities.

In the back of these test rooms is the Photometric Laboratory. This is the large windowless building which parallels the highway. Its purpose is to make light distribution and efficiency tests of the various floodlights, reflectors and other lighting equipment manufactured by the company. To exclude all outside light which would interfere with these tests windows were omitted and the walls, ceiling and flood inside the laboratory are painted deep black to absorb all stray light.

The low, square part of the building — resembling a garage without doors—next to the highway, is the Acoustical Laboratory. It has sound absorbing walls and ceilings and is especially constructed to exclude all outside noise. It is entered from the main laboratory through two lead lined doors.

The curved one story part of the laboratory, running to the southward, houses a modern, completely equipped Model Shop where skilled craftsmen fabricate samples of new products and of improvements in present products to be used for test and experimental work before final production for the customers of the company. This building also houses a Conference Room to be used for engineering meetings and as a training center. It also houses the Reception Room where all visitors to the plant are received and directed to the proper individual.

Air-conditioned, Fluorescent lighted Benjamin model shop where working models of new products and improvements on existing products are made.

Young people's rural group have a good time

No story is needed to tell about the good time that the newly organized group of rural young people had last Friday night at the Arlington High School cafeteria. To aid our readers in picking out their friends here is the dope:

The body without the head on the front left side is John Struth, the next couple is Florence Nightingale and Clarence Hartman and back of them is George Hansen (who is the group game and dance caller).

In the left center of the picture the three couples are Harriet Bartholomew and Harvey Goeddeke; Lucille Linneman and Jack Bingham, and Corinne Pauling and Ernest Witte.

Questions on G. I. bill

This is another in a series of questions and answers regarding the rights of returning servicemen and their families, as answered by the USES office at 5306 W. Lawrence Avenue. Further information may be obtained by contacting this office.

Question: My buddy was killed in action and since I was discharged I have married his widow. They had one child. She receives his life insurance, a widow's pension, and the child's pension. Will she continue to rereive all these payments? I am adopting the child as my own and have been awarded a 100% disability pension myself.

Answer: Your wife will not continue to receive the widow's pension after marriage. She will, however, continue to receive the life insurance. When you adopt the child, its pension will be discontinued. You should notify the Veteran's Administration and furnish proof of adoption of the child and of your marriage.

Question: My National Service Insurance has lapsed. May this be re-instated?

Answer: Yes, it may be re-instated by the veteran, either within 6 months after date of separation from active service or within 3 months after date of lapse, whichever is later, by filing a statement showing that he is in as good health as he was on the date of the lapse, and by paying two monthly premiums without interest on term insurance or payment of all monthly premiums in arrears with 5% interest for converted insurance.

Question: A veteran receives a Blue Discharge. How much time does he have to file a request for a review of his case?

Answer: This request must be made within 15 years from the time of discharge, or within 15 years of the date of the G. I. Bill of Rights, whichever is later.

Question: Can I use my experience in the army to qualify for a Civil Service examination?

Answer: Yes, credit will be given on many civil service examinations for experience in the armed forces, if the experience was similar to that required in the position for which the application was made.

Question: Is a veteran whose name appeared on a civil service eligible list at the time of his entrance into the armed forces entitled to have his name restored to the current list for the same position?

Answer: Yes. If no current list exists, it will be restored on the next list for that position or on another appropriate list. Application for restoration of eligibility must be made within 90 days of the veteran's discharge.

Question: What is the definition of a veteran of World War II, according to the United States Employment Service?

Answer: The term "Veteran of World War II" means a person who served in the active service of the armed forces of the United States subsequent to September 16, 1940, and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable. The term "armed forces" includes the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Naval Reserve, Coast Guard Reserve (exclusive of C. G. Reserve, Temporary), National Naval Volunteers, WACS, WAVES, SPARS, and Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

Question: What is the soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940?

Answer: This is an act of Congress designed to protect the rights of persons in military service in certain civil proceeding, such as lawsuits for the collection of indebtedness, rescission of certain contracts, repossession of certain property, collection of certain taxes, and eviction of the dependents of a person in military service for nonpayment of rent. Certain rights of such persons in public lands are also protected, and a procedure is provided whereby a person in service may protect certain life insurance policies from lapse for nonpayment of premiums during his period of military service.

Camp Reinberg opens July 1

Camp Reinberg Association, Inc., has gotten under way organizing a staff and preparing the camp for opening July 1. Dorothea Chant, former executive secretary, American Camping Association and 1945 director of Girls' Camp, Sunset Camp, has been engaged as camp director and is busy selecting the association's staff for the coming season.

The association will provide the camp site, food, four program leaders, a kitchen staff, a caretaker and a nurse for the season. The facilities for 96 children between the ages of 9 and 14 will be leased for 10-day periods at the rate of $15.00 per camper to agencies which will provide the supervision of a counselor for every eight campers.

Three housing units will be provided—each made up of four cabins, three for sleeping quarters and a fourth for a recreation hall. Food will be served in a common dining room and will be provided by the Association.

Camp Reinberg in Deer Grove Forest Preserve, was operated for 25 years under the management of the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare, host to nearly 10,000 underprivileged children, which was closed during the war.

With the assumption of the new management, the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare will have no voice in the future management of the camp. The Bureau of Public Welfare has transferred the buildings and equipment of Camp Reinberg to the Board of Forest Preserve Commissioners, who will be in direct charge.

From little red schoolhouse to chummiest community is 10 year record of Pros. Hts.

From this little red schoolhouse and cornfields galore to a community whose activities have gained national prominence, is the story of Prospect Heights which celebrates its 10th anniversary as an unincorporated village on August 9, 10 and 11. Now basking in the news-light as America's Chummiest Community, its citizens are getting ready for a big show. They are advertising the event in newspapers throughout the area urging people to attend and will shortly stretch a huge sign across Illinois Highway 83 to reach the thousands who motor through the community daily.

A committee of 100 prominent citizens is being formed to sparkplug the anniversary fete which will have all the thrills and fun of a typical country carnival. Among the novel features will be the sale of "beef on the hoof," a nightly contest to find the best jitterbug dancing team in the 10 mile area and a nightly "money hunt."

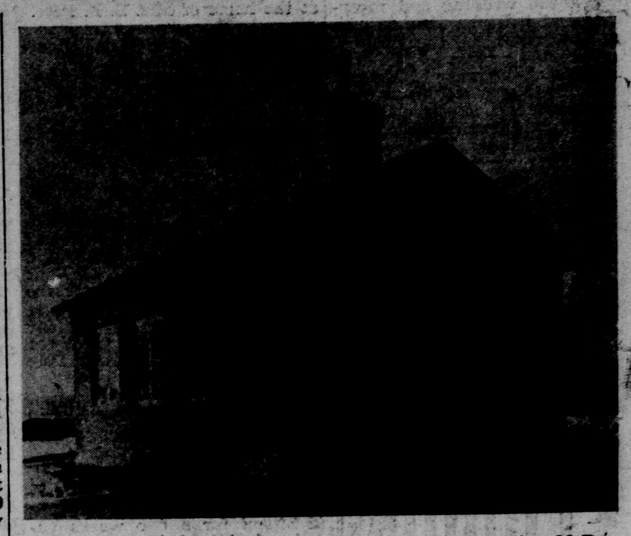

The fete is sponsored by the Prospect Heights Field House Association whose only purpose is to collect funds, to build and manage a Community Field House for the village. The association membership includes the leaders of the two churches, the Lions Club, the large Improvement Assn., Parent Teacher Assn., The St. James Women's Guild, Boy Scouts and other similar organizations.

The community's local bulletin which was distributed house to house last Sunday urged each and every resident to do their best toward publicizing the fete and hinted that every family ought to induce at least 10 of their out-of-town friends to participate in the "Get Acquainted Day" program.

Former residents are being invited "back to town" for a "Home Coming" feature Saturday, Aug. 10.

The steering committee, composed of committee chairmen for all activities, is now busily engaged in setting up the day to day program of attractions and events.

The fete will commemorate the building of the first house in the community by Smith & Dawson, the developers of Prospect Heights. It will be staged in the spacious fields adjoining McDonald and Elmhurst rds. Parking facilities for over 1000 cars nightly are being carefully set up. A huge dance floor for dancing to the tune of Mark Webb's orchestra is also under construction.

Close-up view of entrance to new Benjamin Electric Development and Testing Laboratory which also houses a reception room for plant visitors and a conference room.

As part of its 45th Anniversary celebration, Benjamin Electric Mfg. Company of Des Plaines, Illinois, will dedicate this ultra-modern, $100,000 development and testing laboratory on June 26, 1946.

New Benjamin experimental lab to be dedicated next Wednesday

Dedicated to the advancement of the science and art of illumination, the laboratory building designed by Perkins and Will, architects and engineers houses an Electrical Section, a Physical Test Section, a Photometric Laboratory, an Acoustical Laboratory, a Model Shop and a meeting room for engineering and other conferences.

The modern two story building with the large window, visible going north on the highway, houses the Electrical Section and Physical Test Section with instruments for measuring hardness, tensile and torsional strength of steel, Finish Hardness Testers, Insulation Resistance Meters, Weather-Ometer, Salt Spray Machine, Humidity Test Chamber, Temperature Control Chamber and other facilities.

In the back of these test rooms is the Photometric Laboratory. This is the large windowless building which parallels the highway. Its purpose is to make light distribution and efficiency tests of the various floodlights, reflectors and other lighting equipment manufactured by the company. To exclude all outside light which would interfere with these tests windows were omitted and the walls, ceiling and flood inside the laboratory are painted deep black to absorb all stray light.

The low, square part of the building — resembling a garage without doors—next to the highway, is the Acoustical Laboratory. It has sound absorbing walls and ceilings and is especially constructed to exclude all outside noise. It is entered from the main laboratory through two lead lined doors.

The curved one story part of the laboratory, running to the southward, houses a modern, completely equipped Model Shop where skilled craftsmen fabricate samples of new products and of improvements in present products to be used for test and experimental work before final production for the customers of the company. This building also houses a Conference Room to be used for engineering meetings and as a training center. It also houses the Reception Room where all visitors to the plant are received and directed to the proper individual.

Air-conditioned, Fluorescent lighted Benjamin model shop where working models of new products and improvements on existing products are made.

Young people's rural group have a good time

No story is needed to tell about the good time that the newly organized group of rural young people had last Friday night at the Arlington High School cafeteria. To aid our readers in picking out their friends here is the dope:

The body without the head on the front left side is John Struth, the next couple is Florence Nightingale and Clarence Hartman and back of them is George Hansen (who is the group game and dance caller).

In the left center of the picture the three couples are Harriet Bartholomew and Harvey Goeddeke; Lucille Linneman and Jack Bingham, and Corinne Pauling and Ernest Witte.

Questions on G. I. bill

This is another in a series of questions and answers regarding the rights of returning servicemen and their families, as answered by the USES office at 5306 W. Lawrence Avenue. Further information may be obtained by contacting this office.

Question: My buddy was killed in action and since I was discharged I have married his widow. They had one child. She receives his life insurance, a widow's pension, and the child's pension. Will she continue to rereive all these payments? I am adopting the child as my own and have been awarded a 100% disability pension myself.

Answer: Your wife will not continue to receive the widow's pension after marriage. She will, however, continue to receive the life insurance. When you adopt the child, its pension will be discontinued. You should notify the Veteran's Administration and furnish proof of adoption of the child and of your marriage.

Question: My National Service Insurance has lapsed. May this be re-instated?

Answer: Yes, it may be re-instated by the veteran, either within 6 months after date of separation from active service or within 3 months after date of lapse, whichever is later, by filing a statement showing that he is in as good health as he was on the date of the lapse, and by paying two monthly premiums without interest on term insurance or payment of all monthly premiums in arrears with 5% interest for converted insurance.

Question: A veteran receives a Blue Discharge. How much time does he have to file a request for a review of his case?

Answer: This request must be made within 15 years from the time of discharge, or within 15 years of the date of the G. I. Bill of Rights, whichever is later.

Question: Can I use my experience in the army to qualify for a Civil Service examination?

Answer: Yes, credit will be given on many civil service examinations for experience in the armed forces, if the experience was similar to that required in the position for which the application was made.

Question: Is a veteran whose name appeared on a civil service eligible list at the time of his entrance into the armed forces entitled to have his name restored to the current list for the same position?

Answer: Yes. If no current list exists, it will be restored on the next list for that position or on another appropriate list. Application for restoration of eligibility must be made within 90 days of the veteran's discharge.

Question: What is the definition of a veteran of World War II, according to the United States Employment Service?

Answer: The term "Veteran of World War II" means a person who served in the active service of the armed forces of the United States subsequent to September 16, 1940, and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable. The term "armed forces" includes the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Naval Reserve, Coast Guard Reserve (exclusive of C. G. Reserve, Temporary), National Naval Volunteers, WACS, WAVES, SPARS, and Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

Question: What is the soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940?

Answer: This is an act of Congress designed to protect the rights of persons in military service in certain civil proceeding, such as lawsuits for the collection of indebtedness, rescission of certain contracts, repossession of certain property, collection of certain taxes, and eviction of the dependents of a person in military service for nonpayment of rent. Certain rights of such persons in public lands are also protected, and a procedure is provided whereby a person in service may protect certain life insurance policies from lapse for nonpayment of premiums during his period of military service.

Camp Reinberg opens July 1

Camp Reinberg Association, Inc., has gotten under way organizing a staff and preparing the camp for opening July 1. Dorothea Chant, former executive secretary, American Camping Association and 1945 director of Girls' Camp, Sunset Camp, has been engaged as camp director and is busy selecting the association's staff for the coming season.

The association will provide the camp site, food, four program leaders, a kitchen staff, a caretaker and a nurse for the season. The facilities for 96 children between the ages of 9 and 14 will be leased for 10-day periods at the rate of $15.00 per camper to agencies which will provide the supervision of a counselor for every eight campers.

Three housing units will be provided—each made up of four cabins, three for sleeping quarters and a fourth for a recreation hall. Food will be served in a common dining room and will be provided by the Association.

Camp Reinberg in Deer Grove Forest Preserve, was operated for 25 years under the management of the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare, host to nearly 10,000 underprivileged children, which was closed during the war.

With the assumption of the new management, the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare will have no voice in the future management of the camp. The Bureau of Public Welfare has transferred the buildings and equipment of Camp Reinberg to the Board of Forest Preserve Commissioners, who will be in direct charge.

The duties of the firefighter specify that he is to inspect buildings and grounds, fire alarm systems, sprinkler systers and other equipment. He must be competent to operate firefighting apparatus in response to fire alarms with a firefighting company.

Veterans are given special preference for this position, provided they have had experience as members of a fire department.

Applications must be filed on or before 26 June 1946 with the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at Ft. Sheridan. Application forms may be obtained from the secretary of the board at Ft. Sheridan, at the regional office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, 433 W. Van Buren St., Chicago 7, or at any first or second class post office.

Daniel Briel takes Iowa girl bride

Returning from their honeymoon last week were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Briel of Palatine. Mrs. Briel is the former Retha Gayle Allbough, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Gittings of Ottumwa, Iowa.

The young couple were married Saturday, June 15, at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church in Ottumwa. The bride's gown was of embroidered marquisette, styled with long sleeves, sweetheart neckline and a full gathered skirt ending in a short train. Her fingertip veil was crowned by a halo of orange blossoms and the blossoms were scattered throughout the two lengths of the veil. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Miss Phyllis Andrews, the bride's cousin of Ottumwa, was her only attendant. Miss Andrews dress was fashioned of pink lace and net over taffeta, set off with elbow length gloves and a white lace juliet cap. She carried white carnations and pale blue delphinium.

Mr. Briel was attended by Dale W. Allbough, brother of the bride. Ushers were Wallace Phillips and William Hoskins.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Weaver Gittings. A reception followed the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gittings.

Mr. and Mrs. Briel will make their home at 246 North Brockway, Palatine.

'LITTLE JOE' OUTWEIGHED

Seems "little Joe" arrived in time for the deadline of last week's paper but some how or other his weight of 8 pounds 3 ounces was too light for the rest of the new babies and he was lost in the shuffle.

Joe's real name is Joseph James and he was born June 10 at St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin. His proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morici, Jr. of Arlington Heights.

Ed Deeke, Anita Heuer 'I do'

Miss Anita Heuer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heuer, and Wallace Deeke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Deeke, both of Arlington Heights, repeated the solemn vows after the Rev. H. C. Fricke that united them in holy wedlock. The ceremony took place at the Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran church Saturday, June 15, at 4:00 p. m. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white carnations, orange blossoms and baskets of pink and white peonies mixed with orange blossoms that were banked with palms. Sprays of white gladioli decorated the pews.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her dress was fashioned with lace bodice having a lace scalloped peplin coming to a point in the back, a full net skirt and train. The fingertip veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of gardenias and white stephonotis from which fell streamers of orange blossoms.

Miss Evelyn Heuer, sister of the bride, served as the maid of honor and was attired in a dress having a pink embroidered bodice with a full net skirt. It was set off with an embroidered pink half hat, trimmed with yellow roses and blue delphiniums, and matching pink gloves. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and blue delphiniums.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Norman Heuer, Miss Grace Harting, Mrs. Vernon Deeke, and the Misses Delilah and Diane Deeke, all wore pink dresses fashioned like the maid of honors. Their gloves and half hats were pink net trimmed with yellow roses and they all carried bouquets of yellow roses.

Little Susan Studtmann served as flower girl and wore a gown styled like the others, having a pink heart-shaped bonnet trimmed with yellow roses. She carried a basket of yellow roses and blue delphiniums. Ring bearer was Paul Busse, who wore a full dress suit.

Elmer Rohlwing, friend of the groom, served as best man and he was assisted by ushers, Norman Heuer, Rollin Busse, Vernon Deeke and Albert Heuer, Jr.

Miss Ruth Studtman sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Theodore Preuss at the organ.

Following the marriage a dinner was held at the St. Peter Lutheran school for 50 guests. A reception followed at the Wheeling Gymnasium for 350 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Deeke are making their home with Mr. Deeke's parents for the present.

Irene Pinnello, James Ketterman take vows

Wednesday, June 12, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening the marriage of Miss Irene Pinnello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pinnello of Colorado Springs, Colorado, and James Ketterman, son of Mrs. Luella Ketterman of Arlington Heights, took place in the sitting room of the Arlington Heights Methodist meeeing house. Rev. Milo J. Vondracek issued the solemn vows.

Mrs. I. Barnum entertained with appropriate piano selections as the guests were arriving. At the appointed time, as the minister and the groom, with his best man, Edwin Ketterman, his brother, took their places at the altar, Mrs. Barnum began the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was dressed in a light gray suit, wearing a corsage of gardenias. She was attended by Mrs. Edwin Ketterman as matron of honor, who was dressed in a dark green suit with a corsage of gardenias.

The mother of the groom wore a gray dress and had a corsage of red roses. Other members of the family present were the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Ketterman of Grand Marsh, Wis., his aunt, Mary Hoff, Mrs. Beulah Burkitt, Mrs. Oscar Kurtz, Mrs. Margie Flanders, and Mrs. Vondracek and children, all of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Kurtz assisted the groom's mother in serving refreshments. The room, as well as the table, was artistically decorated with pink and white peonies and roses.

Roger Finke and Bernice Heimsoth wed

St. John's Evangelical church of Bensenville was the scene of the double ring ceremony, June 8, at 7:00 p.m. The ceremony united in marriage Miss Bernice Heimsoth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Heimsoth, and Roger Finke, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Finke, all of Bensenville. Reverend Bergstraeser officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her white gown was fashioned with a lace bodice, sweetheart neckline, and a full net skirt, having a long train. She wore a full length veil held in place with a crown of seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of white gardenias and stephonotis from which fell white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Florence Gustafson, friend of the bride, who wore a gown of sheer pink ninon, a matching summer hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Hilda Finke served as bridesmaid and was gowned in a dress of yellow ninon, having matching hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Junior bridesmaids were Shirley Heimsoth and Florence Grischow. They were gowned alike in white ninon with head pieces of the same material, and carried red roses. All wore rhinestone bracelets and earrings, a gift of the bride.

The two little flower girls were Linda Lee Krecker and Joyce Finke and were gowned alike in dresses of yellow net. They wore sweetheart bonnets and carried baskets of pink carnations and daisies.

Wilbur Finke, brother of the groom, acted as best man and the ushers were Irwin Kueker, Howard Grischow and Wallace Felt.

Both mothers of the bride and groom wore street length dresses of navy blue with corsages of white carnations.

During the ceremony Mrs. Magers, organist of the church, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Franzen's Hall for 250 guests. The couple are making their home with the groom's parents for the present.

Daniel Briel takes Iowa girl bride

Returning from their honeymoon last week were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Briel of Palatine. Mrs. Briel is the former Retha Gayle Allbough, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Gittings of Ottumwa, Iowa.

The young couple were married Saturday, June 15, at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church in Ottumwa. The bride's gown was of embroidered marquisette, styled with long sleeves, sweetheart neckline and a full gathered skirt ending in a short train. Her fingertip veil was crowned by a halo of orange blossoms and the blossoms were scattered throughout the two lengths of the veil. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Miss Phyllis Andrews, the bride's cousin of Ottumwa, was her only attendant. Miss Andrews dress was fashioned of pink lace and net over taffeta, set off with elbow length gloves and a white lace juliet cap. She carried white carnations and pale blue delphinium.

Mr. Briel was attended by Dale W. Allbough, brother of the bride. Ushers were Wallace Phillips and William Hoskins.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Weaver Gittings. A reception followed the ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gittings.

Mr. and Mrs. Briel will make their home at 246 North Brockway, Palatine.

Ed Deeke, Anita Heuer 'I do'

Miss Anita Heuer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heuer, and Wallace Deeke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Deeke, both of Arlington Heights, repeated the solemn vows after the Rev. H. C. Fricke that united them in holy wedlock. The ceremony took place at the Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran church Saturday, June 15, at 4:00 p. m. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white carnations, orange blossoms and baskets of pink and white peonies mixed with orange blossoms that were banked with palms. Sprays of white gladioli decorated the pews.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her dress was fashioned with lace bodice having a lace scalloped peplin coming to a point in the back, a full net skirt and train. The fingertip veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of gardenias and white stephonotis from which fell streamers of orange blossoms.

Miss Evelyn Heuer, sister of the bride, served as the maid of honor and was attired in a dress having a pink embroidered bodice with a full net skirt. It was set off with an embroidered pink half hat, trimmed with yellow roses and blue delphiniums, and matching pink gloves. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and blue delphiniums.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Norman Heuer, Miss Grace Harting, Mrs. Vernon Deeke, and the Misses Delilah and Diane Deeke, all wore pink dresses fashioned like the maid of honors. Their gloves and half hats were pink net trimmed with yellow roses and they all carried bouquets of yellow roses.

Little Susan Studtmann served as flower girl and wore a gown styled like the others, having a pink heart-shaped bonnet trimmed with yellow roses. She carried a basket of yellow roses and blue delphiniums. Ring bearer was Paul Busse, who wore a full dress suit.

Elmer Rohlwing, friend of the groom, served as best man and he was assisted by ushers, Norman Heuer, Rollin Busse, Vernon Deeke and Albert Heuer, Jr.

Miss Ruth Studtman sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Theodore Preuss at the organ.

Following the marriage a dinner was held at the St. Peter Lutheran school for 50 guests. A reception followed at the Wheeling Gymnasium for 350 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Deeke are making their home with Mr. Deeke's parents for the present.

Irene Pinnello, James Ketterman take vows

Wednesday, June 12, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening the marriage of Miss Irene Pinnello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pinnello of Colorado Springs, Colorado, and James Ketterman, son of Mrs. Luella Ketterman of Arlington Heights, took place in the sitting room of the Arlington Heights Methodist meeeing house. Rev. Milo J. Vondracek issued the solemn vows.

Mrs. I. Barnum entertained with appropriate piano selections as the guests were arriving. At the appointed time, as the minister and the groom, with his best man, Edwin Ketterman, his brother, took their places at the altar, Mrs. Barnum began the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was dressed in a light gray suit, wearing a corsage of gardenias. She was attended by Mrs. Edwin Ketterman as matron of honor, who was dressed in a dark green suit with a corsage of gardenias.

The mother of the groom wore a gray dress and had a corsage of red roses. Other members of the family present were the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Ketterman of Grand Marsh, Wis., his aunt, Mary Hoff, Mrs. Beulah Burkitt, Mrs. Oscar Kurtz, Mrs. Margie Flanders, and Mrs. Vondracek and children, all of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Kurtz assisted the groom's mother in serving refreshments. The room, as well as the table, was artistically decorated with pink and white peonies and roses.

Roger Finke and Bernice Heimsoth wed

St. John's Evangelical church of Bensenville was the scene of the double ring ceremony, June 8, at 7:00 p.m. The ceremony united in marriage Miss Bernice Heimsoth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Heimsoth, and Roger Finke, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Finke, all of Bensenville. Reverend Bergstraeser officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her white gown was fashioned with a lace bodice, sweetheart neckline, and a full net skirt, having a long train. She wore a full length veil held in place with a crown of seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of white gardenias and stephonotis from which fell white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Florence Gustafson, friend of the bride, who wore a gown of sheer pink ninon, a matching summer hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Hilda Finke served as bridesmaid and was gowned in a dress of yellow ninon, having matching hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Junior bridesmaids were Shirley Heimsoth and Florence Grischow. They were gowned alike in white ninon with head pieces of the same material, and carried red roses. All wore rhinestone bracelets and earrings, a gift of the bride.

The two little flower girls were Linda Lee Krecker and Joyce Finke and were gowned alike in dresses of yellow net. They wore sweetheart bonnets and carried baskets of pink carnations and daisies.

Wilbur Finke, brother of the groom, acted as best man and the ushers were Irwin Kueker, Howard Grischow and Wallace Felt.

Both mothers of the bride and groom wore street length dresses of navy blue with corsages of white carnations.

During the ceremony Mrs. Magers, organist of the church, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Franzen's Hall for 250 guests. The couple are making their home with the groom's parents for the present.

'LITTLE JOE' OUTWEIGHED

Seems "little Joe" arrived in time for the deadline of last week's paper but some how or other his weight of 8 pounds 3 ounces was too light for the rest of the new babies and he was lost in the shuffle.

Joe's real name is Joseph James and he was born June 10 at St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin. His proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morici, Jr. of Arlington Heights.

Anesthesia — Dentistry's Gift To Mankind

Mankind's greatest boon — the discovery and use of surgical anesthesia — was given to the world by two dentists just about 100 years ago. No other single discovery rendered so notable a service to humanity, since anesthesia made possible the entire development of modern surgery and modern dentistry, and saved untold suffering of countless millions.

Before 1844, a surgical operation, dental or otherwise, was the sheerest torture. Any operation was a major operation; major in the shock it caused and, oftener than not, fatal.

On December 19, 1844, Dr. Horace Wells, a practicing dentist of Hartford, Conn., attended a lecture by one Dr. C. Q. Colton. The lecture was on nitrous oxide gas, included a demonstration of the "amusing" properties of the gas, which the lecturer called "laughing gas." A young friend of Doctor Wells named Cooley inhaled the gas, to assist the demonstration. While under the influence of the nitrous oxide, Cooley collided with a bench on the lecture platform, injuring his leg — very badly, as it later came out. Yet Cooley felt no pain.

Dr. Wells was impressed. He realized what the discovery could mean to dentistry and medicine. Next day, Dr. Wells prevailed upon Doctor Colton to come to his office and put him to sleep with the gas. Thereupon, another dentist extracted a molar from Doctor Wells' jaw. Regaining consciousness a few moments later, Doctor Wells exclaimed: "A new era in tooth pulling! It did not hurt me as much as the prick of a pin; it is the greatest discovery ever made".

And so it proved to be. The discovery was supplemented two years later by Dr. William T. G. Morton, a Boston dentist, who successfully and for the first time demonstrated the use of sulphuric ether as an anesthetic.

With the invention of the hypodemic needle in 1883, a new milestone in the control of pain was reached. Instead of total unconsciousness, which was the only anesthesia known before, it permitted the anesthesizing of local areas.

Des Plaines VFW Victory Festival a great success

A happy and warm crowd, estimated at between 15-17,000 swarmed to Rand Park last Sunday afternoon and evening to view the closing day program of Des Plaines Post No. 2992, Veterans of Foreign Wars' "Victory Festival". They saw the state championship drum and bugle competition in the afternoon and evening, the championship baton twirling meet in the evening and the winning ticket for the new 1946 Dodge drawn along about midnight.

Winner of the new automobile was Richard E. Blagoue of 1833 Illinois Street, Des Plaines.

Title holder in the National Drum & Bugle Corps Association State organization for the second consecutive year is the Logan Square American Legion Post Corps of Chicago. Rockford (Ill.) V. F. W. Post Corps was second and George Bell Jr. V. F. W. Post Corps of Chicago finished third.

Odds are that the happiest family in Des Plaines is the Richard Blagoue family, winners of the Dodge. When told Monday morning that her husband's ticket was the lucky one Mrs. Blagoue was almost speechless.

Commander Walter Lang of the local post said "no one more deserving could have won the automobile; these people are without a car, in fact they've been trying to get one for many months".

Blagoue is the proud father of a son Joel, 8 and a daughter Bernadine, 4. The Blagoues came to Des Plaines in 1944 from Chicago and swear they never will leave the city. Mr. Blagaoue's brother was wounded overseas and is a member of the Oak Park V. F. W.

The drum and bugle corps presented a colorful spectacle to crowds lining the streets of march and the Rand Park baseball field. Clad in gay uniforms the groups performed expertly for the trophies and medals.

Festival Chairman S. C. Wessell reports that the festival was a huge success and the post is now on its way to building its new memorial home and chapel next to Rand Park.

COMMANDER THANKS PUBLIC, WORKERS

Dear Public:

It is with profound gratitude that I extend my deepest thanks on behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Des Plaines Post No. 2992, for the way in which you received our recent "Victory Festival" in Des Plaines. From the youngest tot having the time of his life on the merry-go-round to his grandparents "just lookin'", you were a fine and loyal public.

Those who worked were constant and thorough — both VFW members and outside friends. We extend our hands to other organizations such as this newspaper and the competing drum and bugle corps for their excellent help.

The 1946 "Victory Festival" was a definite success. Yes, it looks like our post home and chapel will be a reality now.

Yours in comradeship,
Walter Lang,
Commander VFW Post No. 2992, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Expect air travel to double record in 1946

Passengers now arriving and departing from the Chicago Municipal airport at the rate of 287 per hour on scheduled flights about the nation and to foreign lands give an excellent index to Chicago's increasingly important position in world aviation.

As one of the world's busiest airports, the Municipal landing field is now handling 6,893 scheduled passengers a day on the basis of 352 flights during a 24-hour period, according to figures given the territorial information department of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois by John Casey, airport manager.

Passenger traffic is increasing by leaps and bounds, and a study of the situation indicates that international air travel and the expansion of domestic air lines in 1946 will nearly double the 1945 figure of 1,496,634 passengers. In fact, the first five months of 1946 already show an increase of 80 per cent.

Five months of the current year found the nine commercial air lines on scheduled operations landing or taking off 45,595 planes with 829,457 passengers. In the same reporting period of 1945, the figure was 30,656 flights and 462,569 passengers.

In January of 1946, the traffic was 125,273 passengers, but by May the figure had increased to 213,674.

Applications have been made to the city of Chicago for 60 per cent more hangar and terminal space than there is land available, the territorial information department learned. TWA, United, American, Eastern and Delta air lines have earmarked more than $4,000,000 for expansion of facilities. In addition, a new terminal building to cost more than $1,000,000, exclusive of restaurant facilities, is now under construction. Maintenance and construction of runways will cost an additional $71,000 in 1946.

Present congestion at the Municipal airport will be relieved to some extent when freight, charter and private flight operations are transferred to the planned $50,000,000 Douglas airport.

Douglas' total area will be expanded to 4,846 acres under present plans. Some idea of the size of the proposed superport can be gained from present airport statistics. Moisant International airport at New Orleans claims to be the "world's largest commercial airport now in operation". It embraces 1,360 acres and is said to be twice the size of LaGuardia field in New York, twice the size of the Chicago Municipal airport, which is 620 acres, and 500 acres larger than the National airport at Washington, D. C.

Eventually, it is planned that all scheduled passenger services will operate out of Douglas airport, at which time freight, charter and private operations will be transferred back to the Municipal airport. A superhighway from Chicago's loop to the Douglas field will speed traffic to and from the airport.

Castles in Spain

The Pyrenees, whose cloud-enshrouded crags and snowy peaks are original "Castles in Spain," stretch for about 260 miles in an unbroken line from the bay of Biscay to the Mediterranean sea. On the French side erosion has modified the slopes, and the valleys are green. The Spanish side, however, is more rugged and barren, with some of the mountains rising to a height of two miles or more.

Erosion Costly

Soil conservation authorities estimate the annual cost of uncontrolled erosion in the U. S. is 3,844 million dollars.

Why they're late

Mail carriers walk to moon and back three times a day

U. S. taxpayers footed the bill for 1,908,629,519 pieces of free mail — thousands of tons of forms, pamphlets, circulars and supplies — sent out by government departments and establishments free of postage under the "penalty privilege" during the year ended June 30, 1945, according to the 1946 Encyclopaedia Britannica Book of the Year.

Although the "penalty mail law," effective July 1, 1944, forced all departments and agencies to account for all matter bearing the penalty indicia and pay into the treasury the cost of handling such matter, 5,745,875 more pounds of free mail were handled than in the fiscal year 1944, year book figures show. The number of pieces decreased by 286,956,796 items, according to the author of the year book article, Isaac Gregg, director of press relations for the Office of the Postmaster General.

Servicemen mailed 1,100,000,000 pieces of free first-class mail during 1945, which would have cost $33,000,000 in postage at the rate of three cents apiece, the Book of the Year estimates.

In spite of the tremendous volume of free mail, Post Office revenues were the highest in history, amounting to $1,314,240,132, Gregg points out. The mail handled by the Post Office during the 1945 fiscal year weighed 3,700,000 tons and totaled 37,900,000,000 separate pieces. Rural mail carriers traveled a distance equal to three round trips to the moon every day, the publication's statistics show.

Gregg reports that during 1945, it was impossible to deliver 14,144,856 letters, mainly because of incorrect addresses on letters for servicemen and for civilians who had moved as a result of changes in war work. A total of 2,655,919 letters were returned to senders, Gregg points out, of which 368,854 were found to contain valuable enclosures. Of these, 78,143 contained money, amounting to $193,974, he says. The year book records 633,947 unclaimed parcels and articles found loose in the mails, which were sold at public auction for $180,413.

Ripening Cantaloupes

Cantaloupes will not tolerate frost and develop best at high temperatures. Low relative humidity of the air has been reported to favor thick netting and solid flesh. Plenty of sunshine is required for good flavor and high sugar content. For any variety, late ripening is associated with low temperatures and early ripening with high temperatures. Records show that a daily accumulation of 2500 degrees above 50 degrees Fahrenheit is necessary for ripening. This usually occurs in the spring from May 20 to June 10.

Anesthesia — Dentistry's Gift To Mankind

Mankind's greatest boon — the discovery and use of surgical anesthesia — was given to the world by two dentists just about 100 years ago. No other single discovery rendered so notable a service to humanity, since anesthesia made possible the entire development of modern surgery and modern dentistry, and saved untold suffering of countless millions.

Before 1844, a surgical operation, dental or otherwise, was the sheerest torture. Any operation was a major operation; major in the shock it caused and, oftener than not, fatal.

On December 19, 1844, Dr. Horace Wells, a practicing dentist of Hartford, Conn., attended a lecture by one Dr. C. Q. Colton. The lecture was on nitrous oxide gas, included a demonstration of the "amusing" properties of the gas, which the lecturer called "laughing gas." A young friend of Doctor Wells named Cooley inhaled the gas, to assist the demonstration. While under the influence of the nitrous oxide, Cooley collided with a bench on the lecture platform, injuring his leg — very badly, as it later came out. Yet Cooley felt no pain.

Dr. Wells was impressed. He realized what the discovery could mean to dentistry and medicine. Next day, Dr. Wells prevailed upon Doctor Colton to come to his office and put him to sleep with the gas. Thereupon, another dentist extracted a molar from Doctor Wells' jaw. Regaining consciousness a few moments later, Doctor Wells exclaimed: "A new era in tooth pulling! It did not hurt me as much as the prick of a pin; it is the greatest discovery ever made".

And so it proved to be. The discovery was supplemented two years later by Dr. William T. G. Morton, a Boston dentist, who successfully and for the first time demonstrated the use of sulphuric ether as an anesthetic.

With the invention of the hypodemic needle in 1883, a new milestone in the control of pain was reached. Instead of total unconsciousness, which was the only anesthesia known before, it permitted the anesthesizing of local areas.

Des Plaines VFW Victory Festival a great success

A happy and warm crowd, estimated at between 15-17,000 swarmed to Rand Park last Sunday afternoon and evening to view the closing day program of Des Plaines Post No. 2992, Veterans of Foreign Wars' "Victory Festival". They saw the state championship drum and bugle competition in the afternoon and evening, the championship baton twirling meet in the evening and the winning ticket for the new 1946 Dodge drawn along about midnight.

Winner of the new automobile was Richard E. Blagoue of 1833 Illinois Street, Des Plaines.

Title holder in the National Drum & Bugle Corps Association State organization for the second consecutive year is the Logan Square American Legion Post Corps of Chicago. Rockford (Ill.) V. F. W. Post Corps was second and George Bell Jr. V. F. W. Post Corps of Chicago finished third.

Odds are that the happiest family in Des Plaines is the Richard Blagoue family, winners of the Dodge. When told Monday morning that her husband's ticket was the lucky one Mrs. Blagoue was almost speechless.

Commander Walter Lang of the local post said "no one more deserving could have won the automobile; these people are without a car, in fact they've been trying to get one for many months".

Blagoue is the proud father of a son Joel, 8 and a daughter Bernadine, 4. The Blagoues came to Des Plaines in 1944 from Chicago and swear they never will leave the city. Mr. Blagaoue's brother was wounded overseas and is a member of the Oak Park V. F. W.

The drum and bugle corps presented a colorful spectacle to crowds lining the streets of march and the Rand Park baseball field. Clad in gay uniforms the groups performed expertly for the trophies and medals.

Festival Chairman S. C. Wessell reports that the festival was a huge success and the post is now on its way to building its new memorial home and chapel next to Rand Park.

COMMANDER THANKS PUBLIC, WORKERS

Dear Public:

It is with profound gratitude that I extend my deepest thanks on behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Des Plaines Post No. 2992, for the way in which you received our recent "Victory Festival" in Des Plaines. From the youngest tot having the time of his life on the merry-go-round to his grandparents "just lookin'", you were a fine and loyal public.

Those who worked were constant and thorough — both VFW members and outside friends. We extend our hands to other organizations such as this newspaper and the competing drum and bugle corps for their excellent help.

The 1946 "Victory Festival" was a definite success. Yes, it looks like our post home and chapel will be a reality now.

Yours in comradeship,
Walter Lang,
Commander VFW Post No. 2992, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Expect air travel to double record in 1946

Passengers now arriving and departing from the Chicago Municipal airport at the rate of 287 per hour on scheduled flights about the nation and to foreign lands give an excellent index to Chicago's increasingly important position in world aviation.

As one of the world's busiest airports, the Municipal landing field is now handling 6,893 scheduled passengers a day on the basis of 352 flights during a 24-hour period, according to figures given the territorial information department of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois by John Casey, airport manager.

Passenger traffic is increasing by leaps and bounds, and a study of the situation indicates that international air travel and the expansion of domestic air lines in 1946 will nearly double the 1945 figure of 1,496,634 passengers. In fact, the first five months of 1946 already show an increase of 80 per cent.

Five months of the current year found the nine commercial air lines on scheduled operations landing or taking off 45,595 planes with 829,457 passengers. In the same reporting period of 1945, the figure was 30,656 flights and 462,569 passengers.

In January of 1946, the traffic was 125,273 passengers, but by May the figure had increased to 213,674.

Applications have been made to the city of Chicago for 60 per cent more hangar and terminal space than there is land available, the territorial information department learned. TWA, United, American, Eastern and Delta air lines have earmarked more than $4,000,000 for expansion of facilities. In addition, a new terminal building to cost more than $1,000,000, exclusive of restaurant facilities, is now under construction. Maintenance and construction of runways will cost an additional $71,000 in 1946.

Present congestion at the Municipal airport will be relieved to some extent when freight, charter and private flight operations are transferred to the planned $50,000,000 Douglas airport.

Douglas' total area will be expanded to 4,846 acres under present plans. Some idea of the size of the proposed superport can be gained from present airport statistics. Moisant International airport at New Orleans claims to be the "world's largest commercial airport now in operation". It embraces 1,360 acres and is said to be twice the size of LaGuardia field in New York, twice the size of the Chicago Municipal airport, which is 620 acres, and 500 acres larger than the National airport at Washington, D. C.

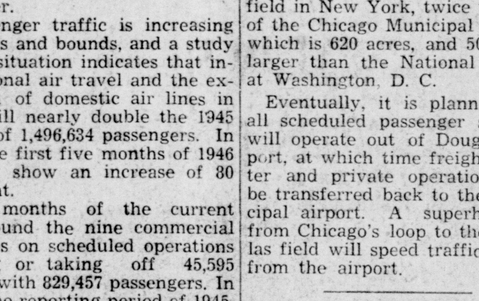

Eventually, it is planned that all scheduled passenger services will operate out of Douglas airport, at which time freight, charter and private operations will be transferred back to the Municipal airport. A superhighway from Chicago's loop to the Douglas field will speed traffic to and from the airport.

Castles in Spain

The Pyrenees, whose cloud-enshrouded crags and snowy peaks are original "Castles in Spain," stretch for about 260 miles in an unbroken line from the bay of Biscay to the Mediterranean sea. On the French side erosion has modified the slopes, and the valleys are green. The Spanish side, however, is more rugged and barren, with some of the mountains rising to a height of two miles or more.

Erosion Costly

Soil conservation authorities estimate the annual cost of uncontrolled erosion in the U. S. is 3,844 million dollars.

Why they're late

Mail carriers walk to moon and back three times a day

U. S. taxpayers footed the bill for 1,908,623,519 pieces of free mail — thousands of tons of forms, pamphlets, circulars and supplies — sent out by government departments and establishments free of postage under the "penalty privilege" during the year ended June 30, 1945, according to the 1946 Encyclopaedia Britannica Book of the Year.

Although the "penalty mail law," effective July 1, 1944, forced all departments and agencies to account for all matter bearing the penalty indicia and pay into the treasury the cost of handling such matter, 5,745,875 more pounds of free mail were handled than in the fiscal year 1944, year book figures show. The number of pieces decreased by 286,956,796 items, according to the author of the year book article, Isaac Gregg, director of press relations for the Office of the Postmaster General.

Servicemen mailed 1,100,000,000 pieces of free first-class mail during 1945, which would have cost $33,000,000 in postage at the rate of three cents apiece, the Book of the Year estimates.

In spite of the tremendous volume of free mail, Post Office revenues were the highest in history, amounting to $1,314,240,132, Gregg points out. The mail handled by the Post Office during the 1945 fiscal year weighed 3,700,000 tons and totaled 37,900,000,000 separate pieces. Rural mail carriers traveled a distance equal to three round trips to the moon every day, the publication's statistics show.

Gregg reports that during 1945, it was impossible to deliver 14,144,856 letters, mainly because of incorrect addresses on letters for servicemen and for civilians who had moved as a result of changes in war work. A total of 2,655,919 letters were returned to senders, Gregg points out, of which 368,854 were found to contain valuable enclosures. Of these, 78,143 contained money, amounting to $193,974, he says. The year book records 633,947 unclaimed parcels and articles found loose in the mails, which were sold at public auction for $180,413.

Ripening Cantaloupes

Cantaloupes will not tolerate frost and develop best at high temperatures. Low relative humidity of the air has been reported to favor thick netting and solid flesh. Plenty of sunshine is required for good flavor and high sugar content. For any variety, late ripening is associated with low temperatures and early ripening with high temperatures. Records show that a daily accumulation of 2500 degrees above 50 degrees Fahrenheit is necessary for ripening. This usually occurs in the spring from May 20 to June 10.

Fine training offered in medics

Stamping out yellow fever in a swamp, fighting dreaded disease in the sweltering jungles, checking the spread of epidemics at home and abroad, caring for wounds and mending broken bones . . . That's the mission of the Medical Department. And in the Post-War regular Army, the Medical Corps will move ahead rapidly in research and the development of new drugs, new methods of mercy, new techniques of healing and surgery.

On the pitching decks of transports, and in the steaming heat of tropical jungles, in the calm silence of the most modern Army hospitals, these men work swiftly and surely as they repair the shattered bodies of their fellow soldiers and nurse them back to healthy life. In time of peace 5% of the Army's total enlisted strength is engaged in keeping the other 95% hale and hearty. And in time of war, the medical department constitutes as much as 12%. For theirs is a position of tremendous responsibility. Medicine requires training, and when you enlist in the medical department you will receive expert instruction and supervision from highly trained personnel.

The medical department pioneered the use of sulfa, penicillin, streptomycin and the treatment of burns and skin diseases often fatal in years past. The veterinary corps tends to the loyal animals used by the Army and inspects the meat and dairy products purchased by the Army. The Dental Corps maintains the highest standards of oral health by frequent inspection and care.

You may be a surgical or laboratory technician, or a plasma expert, a drug or serum technician, a surgeon's assistant, an x-ray technician, or optical technician, or any one of the many many other skilled professions. The newest developments, the latest information will be yours.

Fine training offered in medics

Stamping out yellow fever in a swamp, fighting dreaded disease in the sweltering jungles, checking the spread of epidemics at home and abroad, caring for wounds and mending broken bones . . . That's the mission of the Medical Department. And in the Post-War regular Army, the Medical Corps will move ahead rapidly in research and the development of new drugs, new methods of mercy, new techniques of healing and surgery.

On the pitching decks of transports, and in the steaming heat of tropical jungles, in the calm silence of the most modern Army hospitals, these men work swiftly and surely as they repair the shattered bodies of their fellow soldiers and nurse them back to healthy life. In time of peace 5% of the Army's total enlisted strength is engaged in keeping the other 95% hale and hearty. And in time of war, the medical department constitutes as much as 12%. For theirs is a position of tremendous responsibility. Medicine requires training, and when you enlist in the medical department you will receive expert instruction and supervision from highly trained personnel.

The medical department pioneered the use of sulfa, penicillin, streptomycin and the treatment of burns and skin diseases often fatal in years past. The veterinary corps tends to the loyal animals used by the Army and inspects the meat and dairy products purchased by the Army. The Dental Corps maintains the highest standards of oral health by frequent inspection and care.

You may be a surgical or laboratory technician, or a plasma expert, a drug or serum technician, a surgeon's assistant, an x-ray technician, or optical technician, or any one of the many many other skilled professions. The newest developments, the latest information will be yours.

Fire shots at railroad train

Two bullets went through windows of a Chicago and North Western passenger train about 4 p. m. Monday while it was speeding north through Winthrop Harbor, in Libertyville.

Railroad officers reported it wasn't the first time that their trains have been fired on in that vicinity, but that it was the first time they were able to establish the exact time and place.

One bullet went through a dining car and another through a coach. A train steward who noticed the shot in the diner established the time and place and saw a car parked east of the tracks, apparently the source of the shooting.

New fire station for Glenview

Glenview will have a new fire station by the latter part of September, if progress is made according to present plans of the Volunteer Fire department and the village. The architect's design calls for a two story Lannon stone and brick structure, approximating $20,000 in cost, to be erected at the corner of Glenview road and South Pine street, fronting on Glenview road. As delivery date of the new fire truck has been promised by late September, it is the hope of the fire fighters that the building will be ready for occupancy at that time.

DuPage county refuses drive-in Aroused delegations from a number of communities in DuPage county spoke in opposition to the construction of a proposed drive-in theater at the busy intersection of Butterfield and Roosevelt roads, and at the conclusion of a hearing on the matter last Thursday night, the county zoning board of appeals denied the application for a permit for the project.

Denial of the permit was based on the added traffic hazard such an enterprise would create at this site, likely sanitary objections and also the moral objections which were voiced by the church delegations.

Sporleder will

The will of the late Albert C. Sporleder, who died in Palatine March 25, leaving an estimated $18,000 estate, mostly real estate, has been admitted to probate in the Cook county Probate court, Frank Lyman, clerk. Son Martin of Palatine is to have $1,000, and daughters Amalia Nerge, of Mt. Prospect, and Matilda Ninrich, of Elgin, $200 each.

His widow, Margaret, of Palatine, is to get all cash on hand and in bank and other money. Ten grandchildren are to get a $25 government bond each. The residue of the estate is then to be shared equally by the six children who in addition to the four named are Emil, of Mt. Prospect, and Albert, of Palatine, who was named executor of the will.

Kill fox which bit dog in Libertyville

A fox which had bitten a dog and was near a group of small children, was killed Saturday in the front yard at the A. R. Boucher home on East Rockland rd., Libertyville. The dog was ordered "tied up" for 14 days to determine whether it has rabies.

Mrs. Boucher was in her yard when she heard a neighbor's dog howl. She looked around and saw the fox near the dog. It then went to a rear yard where several children were at play, and headed for the latter. Mrs. Boucher called Ferry Calanca, a neighbor, and got a shotgun for him. The fox in the meantime had walked to the Boucher front yard and there it was killed by Calanca.

Good train service makes Arlington airport ideal — GIs seek jobs on local farms

ARLINGTON AIRPORT

We have been extremely interested in your recent articles regarding the proposed acquisition of the surplus Arlington Heights Navy Air Base.

Of the many airports encircling Greater Chicago, none is as strategically located as Arlington Heights. Because of the excellent railroad facilities into Chicago, business men who travel by private and charter aircraft will, without a doubt, find it to their advantage to make this their "stop over" point.

As you no doubt know, all airports within a 100 mile radius of Chicago are badly overcrowded. There are hundreds of air minded people who are unable to fly or own their own aircraft because of this condition.

The trend of industry is toward de-centralization and the opening of your airport should prove a deciding factor in bringing new business to your community as well as putting Arlington Heights on the air map.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by Leland Ellis Truxell

People complain so often about their "hum drum" existence. They fret about their daily stint of making a living for their family, or doing the housework. Yet often, when something occurs or is likely to occur that might make a break in the monotony of every day living — some complication perhaps which entails uncertainty or the necessity of making a sudden decision, they worry themselves to the point of distraction about it, and long for the safe, colorless monotony of their uneventful daily life.

Yet each new experience should be an oasis in the desert of our monotony. New and different experiences, moments of supreme effort or great danger even, are as necessary in our complete development as food, clothing and shelter.

I think that many of us would live longer and happier if we dared do the unusual — the things we dream of but never do because they seem too difficult, expensive or dangerous. My wife has always wanted to climb the Alps, and is determined we shall when I get my pension (imagine a retired mail man going all the way to Switzerland just to climb some mountains).

I have always believed I could be a great actor. Others I know want to fly planes, race horses, be prize fighters, or write.

I often wonder what we would do if something should happen to throw us suddenly out of the easy security of our daily rut, and if we still had the courage to accept the challenge as the opportunity to fulfill our dreams. Who knows to what height we might attain to the things we dream of?

Ah, but we are all cowards of one sort or another! We love to dream of what we can do, of what we could become, but all too often, like little children, we are afraid of our own inability to make our dreams come true. We tell ourselves others are better fitted, more fortunate, so why should we try? Better to yawn, pick up the daily paper, and lose ourselves in the daily run of murder, comics, markets and sports.

So we become conformists, all. So I shall go back to my mail sack, you to your office or housework, and all of us to our dreams. But what would happen if we dared be courageous — if we dared to be different some time, and really attempt to do the things we so love to dream of? Wouldn't we suddenly know that we really never lived until we drank deeply from the stimulating waters of the oasis?

AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

The young woman who does my hair on occasions, asked: "Is there really such things to eat as Shoofly Pie and Apple Pan-Dowdy?"

I told her I thought there was, and added that I had a sneaking suspicion that Apple Pan-Dowdy was probably an old-time version of what we call Fruit Cobbler. Anyway, she started me on a hunt for the recipes, and the following is what I found in an old Pennsylvania Dutch cookbook. I imagine most of us think of Shoofly Pie as purely a southern dish, but those excellent cooks in Pennsylvania developed their own version during the time when molasses was about the only available sweetening for use in cooking.

Shoofly Pie

1 (9 inch) unbaked pastry shell
½ cup sifted flour
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup shortening
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup hot water
½ cup molasses

Combine the flour, sugar, salt and shortening and rub mixture together until it is crumbly and well blended. Dissolve the soda in hot water and stir into molasses. Pour molasses mixture into the unbaked shell. Sprinkle crumb mxture over the top. Bake in a 450 degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce temperature to 350 degrees and bake an additional 10 or 12 minutes, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

Old-fashioned pan-dowdy was a deep-dish apple pie made with biscuit pie crust or a batter topping, the latter being cut or chopped into the fruit before it was served with cream or soft custard. In this recipe for apple pan-dowdy, both biscuit-type and batter topping may be used.

Apple Pan-Dowdy

4 to 5 medium size cooking apples, peeled, cored and sliced
¼ cup molasses
¼ cup white or brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Biscuit Topping

1 cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup milk (about)

Place the prepared apples in a greased casserole or baking pan (9x9 inches) and pour molasses, in a thin stream, evenly over the apples. Blend sugar, spices, and salt and sprinkle over the apples. Sift the flour, measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Cut in the shortening. Add milk and stir to a soft dough. Spread evenly over the apples and bake for about 20 to 25 minutes or until apples are tender, and biscuit topping lightly browned. Makes six to eight servings.

What I would like to know from you! Is there such a dish as "Hush Puppies?" That's really hard to believe! But if it's true, and you have the recipe, how about sending me a copy? Someone told me it originated in the Deep South.

And another thing: Haven't you a favorite bit of verse you would like to share with me—and the others? Or a household hint, or some unusual happening in your daily family life that would be of interest to the rest of us?

Now don't tell me you don't know where to write, 'cause I know you do!

With love, Mary.

Accident Loss

The motor vehicle death toll in 1945 approximates one-third of the total deaths due to all kinds of accidents — a total of 96,000. This impressive total, together with 10,200,000 disabling injuries represents an econominc loss of $5,200,000,000 and is responsible for a loss of 415,000,000 man-days of production.

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

REAL VACATION

We see the editor said we were on a vacation last week. Well, if having the grippe with chills, fever and an upset stomach that wouldn't let a fellow eat for four days, is a vacation, he's welcome to our share of them. We've had plenty of that sort.

And right away our ghost writer gets the column into trouble. "Who in thunder was substituting for you?" demanded E. P. Steinbrinck of Palatine. "Anyone that says he saw me eating three steaks in ten days is crazy."

And then the editor pulls up the sunflowers his wife was hopefully letting grow for feed for the Cardinals.

Well, the next time Mrs. Editor will let her husband know when there are sunflowers in the garden.

Of course, she probably thought that hubby knew the difference between the flowers and weeds. It just shows you that he may be boss of the paper and yet not know beans about gardening. And if she wants anything left after he's gone on a weed rampage, she better put a tag on it.

RABBIT RAIDERS

The rabbit crop seems to be doing fine this season and the rabbit stories are plentiful.

We were talking to Clyde Moffet the other day and he was telling us about setting out 120 tomato plants, and something was cutting them off so fast that he had 53 plants left the next morning.

"That's a favorite stunt of rabbits," we said. "They just cut them down and let them lay."

But it seems we got in conflict with Walter Schinkowsky on that one for Walter had told him a worm came out of the ground and cut them off. Who ever heard of a worm climbing a stalk?

Sure there is a worm that cuts them off at ground level but when they're cut off four inches from the ground we'll bet it was a rabbit. We told Clyde about rabbit repellent, and a new dope called bug dust which they say is as good as rabbit repellent and can be sprinkled right on the plant.

The rabbit repellent seems to get out of stock fast after the early season, but we had enough to save our cabbage.

COOPERATION

And speaking of rabbits, Hank Condes and his family are doing a good job of lessening the rabbit population in our end of the town.

Hank has shot one, his dog caught two, and the cat got one. With that teamwork the rabbits are fighting a losing battle on the east side.

WELL AGED

There are some things besides whiskey that seem to improve with age. Take for instance the case of George Schaefer, veteran pitcher of the Arlington Heights Redwings.

George has been pitching baseball for many years but danged if he doesn't get better the older he grows.

We've watched George pitch for a long time and he seems to be better this year than ever. He has plenty of stuff, fine control, and he never seems to get tired.

And then George seems to have acquired a new sort of baseball religion this year.

He used to fly off and argue with the umpires at the drop of a hat, but no more. Now George goes serenely about the business of pitching baseball and doesn't seem to know there's an ump on the field.

If there is any arguing to do George lets Capt. Wahl and the rest of the boys do it while he calmly keeps warmed up.

At an age where most fellows would sit in the stands and watch the younger fellows do their stuff, George is in there pitching great ball and sparking the Redwings to another big season.

CALL THE ZION KIDS

Despite the fact that the Redwings are hanging up a great winning streak and grabbing a lot of thrillers by one run, it does get tiresome to see one team win all of them. Although the competition is better this year than last, no one can take the Redwings to camp.

It begins to look like we'd have to send out an SOS for the children of Zion with their old time pitcher who had only control and a prayer.

Those kids were the only team that really gave the Redwings much of an argument most of last season. Maybe we'll have to call on the bareheaded boys again this year.

In the future

Things To Come — A portable air conditioner with no moving parts. It is designed for the heating season in home or office, can be plugged into any electricity outlet. It humidifies the air through a unique method of vaporizing water in the cabinet . . . A new plastic for filling wall and floor cracks. Made of a resinous substance, it is tough, jar-resistant and can be applied with a putty knife . . . A new rust-proofing technique. It protects metal during manufacturing stages and permits a tighter bond for paints . . . A new tennis racket string made of nylon yarn filaments. The new woven fiber prevents splitting and is expected to extend wearing life.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"In my long career with the United States Army I've made a hobby of cultivating the very best people in it. And for some strange reason the very best people usually turn out to work in the kitchen."

ERNIE PYLE

You might say that Ernie Pyle expressed his philosophy of life in those lines, taken from his posthumous book, "Last Chapter." He never did think of the war in terms of official communiques and generals' strategy. It was guys like Sgt. Thomas Hill of St. Louis and Corp. Mickey Rovinsky of Edwardsville, Pa., who served in the mess hall, and it was thousands of others whom he knew personally, and whose joys and sorrows he sincerely shared.

In "Here Is Your War" and "Brave Men," a Book-of-the-Month Club selection, Ernie Pyle talked about the GI's war in Europe and Africa. He could have taken a rest after D-Day, but there was still the Pacific to win, and where the fighting was he felt he had to go. In the Marianas first and then living with the boys who flew the B-29s over the Japanese homeland, he saw a different kind of war. Next he joined an aircraft carrier on the invasion of Okinawa. He made the landing with the Marines and saw Okinawa secured. Then his luck ran out. A Japanese bullet killed Ernie Pyle on April 17, 1945, on Ie Shima. "Last Chapter" is the record he has left us of his Pacific experiences, up until the time of his death.

Even six months after we had the Marianas, there were still several hundred Japs in hiding. Ernie Pyle tells of one who, unlike his fellows, didn't take to the hills, but stayed for weeks right in the most thickly American-populated section of the island. He hid in the bushes just a few feet from a path where hundreds of Americans walked daily. They found out later that he even used the officers' outdoor shower bath after they got through and raided their kitchens at night. There was a Jap prison enclosure nearby, and peering out of the bushes he studied the fare of his fellow soldiers. Then one day he came out and gave himself up. He said he had convinced himself they were being treated all right, so he was ready to surrender.

* * * * *

When Margery Sharp's latest novel, "Britannia Mews," was selected by the Book-of-the-Month Club, her publishers wrote to England, asking her to bring them up to date on her activities. She replied, "I can't think of any new data except that I've just started to learn Greek with a resolute schoolboy for coach." And just to show that the Greeks did have a word for it, she wrote out their expression for "I love."

Rule all private water mains are taboo in Palatine

Monday evening the Palatine village board passed the water main extension ordinances for Chicago ave. and Hale St. These are the two ordinances that were defeated a month ago by a vote of 4 to 2 and against which some property owners strongly objected.

By the passage of these ordinances, the board has taken a definite stand against private mains and it is a safe bet that there will be no more permitted.

Private water mains and sewers are relics of old days and are only a make shift which ought never to have been permitted. The village board is unanimous in the stand to stamp out the evil.

The passage of the two ordinances may appear to be an unnecessary expense now, but it would have to come sometime.

DDT does it

Science scratches poison ivy off summer vacation list

Science has happy tidings this summer for American vacationists allergic to that "Dracula" of summer vegetation known as poison ivy. The good news comes in the form of a new war-born chemical called 2,4-D (Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid), now available to operators of vacation playgrounds and owners of summer homes and camps.

When sprayed on poison ivy plants, this new running mate of the other new chemical wonder, DDT, will render the obnoxious weed totally harmless. The nasty stuff collapses soon after spraying, as the chemical penetrates to the very roots of the plant and the plant actually strangles to death. Experiments conducted by Sherwin-Williams scientists show that 1,600 square feet of a weed-infested area can be covered with approximately $1.00 worth of the chemical 2-4-D, or Weed-No-More.

Each year additional thousands who have never contracted the malady before find themselves no longer immune; therefore cutting or pulling the plants and roots out by hand is a chance not worth risking. It has also been proved that ivy poisoning may be contracted merely by getting smoke on the body from fires in which the plants are being burned; therefore the method of killing them by spraying not only is simple and effective today, but eliminates any danger of a person becoming sensitized.

Once the ivy poisoning enters the blood stream the victim is usually faced with six more years of summer misery before it "burns" itself out. Merely being near the plant growth, even without actual contact, often causes a recurrence, according to past surveys of the malady.

It Happened Here

Morning Breeze

When the meadow catches the first gold streak
A breeze springs up from the nearby creek;
Lightly it comes, with the light it dances,
Sifting the leaves with green-gold lances;
Tree whispers to tree and sunlight laces
Where cowslips grow in cool, damp places;
Then suddenly all the trees are rife
With twinkling, dancing, emerald life.

May is a slim, not too strong young woman, red-headed, tho, and asking no odds; she trims her own hedge, really a man's job, and the hedge is as flat as a plate from edge to edge, the admiration of all who pass. However did she get it so even? "That's my little secret," she said, "but I'll show you, see," she gripped the clippers with her elbows snugged close to her side, "my elbows won't go any higher."

Pacific salmon are the most valuable fishery resource belonging to the United States. They yield around 600 million pounds of fish a year. About 85 per cent of the salmon is then canned. The balance is sold fresh, frozen, smoked or cured.

2 cups celery (chopped).
¼ cup green pepper (minced).
4 eggs (hard-cooked).
¼ lb. American cheese (cut in small cubes).
1 cup mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing.

Combine kidney beans, celery and green pepper. Add 2 hard-cooked eggs which have been chopped, the cheese and the salad dressing. Chill. Garnish bowl with remaining eggs, sliced and sprinkled with salt, pepper and paprika.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by Leland Ellis Truxell

People complain so often about their "hum drum" existence. They fret about their daily stint of making a living for their family, or doing the housework. Yet often, when something occurs or is likely to occur that might make a break in the monotony of every day living — some complication perhaps which entails uncertainty or the necessity of making a sudden decision, they worry themselves to the point of distraction about it, and long for the safe, colorless monotony of their uneventful daily life.

Yet each new experience should be an oasis in the desert of our monotony. New and different experiences, moments of supreme effort or great danger even, are as necessary in our complete development as food, clothing and shelter.

I think that many of us would live longer and happier if we dared do the unusual — the things we dream of but never do because they seem too difficult, expensive or dangerous. My wife has always wanted to climb the Alps, and is determined we shall when I get my pension (imagine a retired mail man going all the way to Switzerland just to climb some mountains).

I have always believed I could be a great actor. Others I know want to fly planes, race horses, be prize fighters, or write.

I often wonder what we would do if something should happen to throw us suddenly out of the easy security of our daily rut, and if we still had the courage to accept the challenge as the opportunity to fulfill our dreams. Who knows to what height we might attain to the things we dream of?

Ah, but we are all cowards of one sort or another! We love to dream of what we can do, of what we could become, but all too often, like little children, we are afraid of our own inability to make our dreams come true. We tell ourselves others are better fitted, more fortunate, so why should we try? Better to yawn, pick up the daily paper, and lose ourselves in the daily run of murder, comics, markets and sports.

So we become conformists, all. So I shall go back to my mail sack, you to your office or housework, and all of us to our dreams. But what would happen if we dared be courageous — if we dared to be different some time, and really attempt to do the things we so love to dream of? Wouldn't we suddenly know that we really never lived until we drank deeply from the stimulating waters of the oasis?

AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

The young woman who does my hair on occasions, asked: "Is there really such things to eat as Shoofly Pie and Apple Pan-Dowdy?"

I told her I thought there was, and added that I had a sneaking suspicion that Apple Pan-Dowdy was probably an old-time version of what we call Fruit Cobbler. Anyway, she started me on a hunt for the recipes, and the following is what I found in an old Pennsylvania Dutch cookbook. I imagine most of us think of Shoofly Pie as purely a southern dish, but those excellent cooks in Pennsylvania developed their own version during the time when molasses was about the only available sweetening for use in cooking.

Shoofly Pie

1 (9 inch) unbaked pastry shell
¼ cup sifted flour
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup shortening
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup hot water
½ cup molasses

Combine the flour, sugar, salt and shortening and rub mixture together until it is crumbly and well blended. Dissolve the soda in hot water and stir into molasses. Pour molasses mixture into the unbaked shell. Sprinkle crumb mxture over the top. Bake in a 450 degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce temperature to 350 degrees and bake an additional 10 or 12 minutes, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

Old-fashioned pan-dowdy was a deep-dish apple pie made with biscuit pie crust or a batter topping, the latter being cut or chopped into the fruit before it was served with cream or soft custard. In this recipe for apple pan-dowdy, both biscuit-type and batter topping may be used.

Apple Pan-Dowdy

4 to 5 medium size cooking apples, peeled, cored and sliced
¼ cup molasses
¼ cup white or brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Biscuit Topping

1 cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup milk (about)

Place the prepared apples in a greased casserole or baking pan (9x9 inches) and pour molasses, in a thin stream, evenly over the apples. Blend sugar, spices, and salt and sprinkle over the apples. Sift the flour, measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Cut in the shortening. Add milk and stir to a soft dough. Spread evenly over the apples and bake for about 20 to 25 minutes or until apples are tender, and biscuit topping lightly browned. Makes six to eight servings.

What I would like to know from you! Is there such a dish as "Hush Puppies?" That's really hard to believe! But if it's true, and you have the recipe, how about sending me a copy? Someone told me it originated in the Deep South.

And another thing: Haven't you a favorite bit of verse you would like to share with me—and the others? Or a household hint, or some unusual happening in your daily family life that would be of interest to the rest of us?

Now don't tell me you don't know where to write, 'cause I know you do!

With love, Mary.

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

REAL VACATION

We see the editor said we were on a vacation last week. Well, if having the grippe with chills, fever and an upset stomach that wouldn't let a fellow eat for four days, is a vacation, he's welcome to our share of them. We've had plenty of that sort.

And right away our ghost writer gets the column into trouble. "Who in thunder was substituting for you?" demanded E. P. Steinbrinck of Palatine. "Anyone that says he saw me eating three steaks in ten days is crazy."

And then the editor pulls up the sunflowers his wife was hopefully letting grow for feed for the Cardinals.

Well, the next time Mrs. Editor will let her husband know when there are sunflowers in the garden.

Of course, she probably thought that hubby knew the difference between the flowers and weeds. It just shows you that he may be boss of the paper and yet not know beans about gardening. And if she wants anything left after he's gone on a weed rampage, she better put a tag on it.

RABBIT RAIDERS

The rabbit crop seems to be doing fine this season and the rabbit stories are plentiful.

We were talking to Clyde Moffet the other day and he was telling us about setting out 120 tomato plants, and something was cutting them off so fast that he had 53 plants left the next morning.

"That's a favorite stunt of rabbits," we said. "They just cut them down and let them lay."

But it seems we got in conflict with Walter Schinkowsky on that one for Walter had told him a worm came out of the ground and cut them off. Who ever heard of a worm climbing a stalk?

Sure there is a worm that cuts them off at ground level but when they're cut off four inches from the ground we'll bet it was a rabbit. We told Clyde about rabbit repellent, and a new dope called bug dust which they say is as good as rabbit repellent and can be sprinkled right on the plant.

The rabbit repellent seems to get out of stock fast after the early season, but we had enough to save our cabbage.

And speaking of rabbits, Hank Cordes and his family are doing a good job of lessening the rabbit population in our end of the town.

Hank has shot one, his dog caught two, and the cat got one. With that teamwork the rabbits are fighting a losing battle on the east side.

WELL AGED

There are some things besides whiskey that seem to improve with age. Take for instance the case of George Schaefer, veteran pitcher of the Arlington Heights Redwings.

George has been pitching baseball for many years but danged if he doesn't get better the older he grows.

We've watched George pitch for a long time and he seems to be better this year than ever. He has plenty of stuff, fine control, and he never seems to get tired.

And then George seems to have acquired a new sort of baseball religion this year.

He used to fly off and argue with the umpires at the drop of a hat, but no more. Now George goes serenely about the business of pitching baseball and doesn't seem to know there's an ump on the field.

If there is any arguing to do George lets Capt. Wahl and the rest of the boys do it while he calmly keeps warmed up.

At an age where most fellows would sit in the stands and watch the younger fellows do their stuff, George is in there pitching great ball and sparking the Redwings to another big season.

CALL THE ZION KIDS

Despite the fact that the Redwings are hanging up a great winning streak and grabbing a lot of thrillers by one run, it does get tiresome to see one team win all of them. Although the competition is better this year than last, no one can take the Redwings to camp.

It begins to look like we'd have to send out an SOS for the children of Zion with their old time pitcher who had only control and a prayer.

Those kids were the only team that really gave the Redwings much of an argument most of last season. Maybe we'll have to call on the bareheaded boys again this year.

Things To Come — A portable air conditioner with no moving parts. It is designed for the heating season in home or office, can be plugged into any electricity outlet. It humidifies the air through a unique method of vaporizing water in the cabinet . . . A new plastic for filling wall and floor cracks. It protects metal during manufacturing stages and permits a tighter bond for paints . . . A new tennis racket string made of nylon yarn filaments. The new woven fiber prevents splitting and is expected to extend wearing life.

Accident Loss

The motor vehicle death toll in 1945 approximates one-third of the total deaths due to all kinds of accidents — a total of 96,000. This impressive total, together with 10,200,000 disabling injuries represents an econominc loss of $5,200,000,000 and is responsible for a loss of 415,000,000 man-days of production.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"In my long career with the United States Army I've made a hobby of cultivating the very best people in it. And for some strange reason the very best people usually turn out to work in the kitchen."

ERNIE PYLE

You might say that Ernie Pyle expressed his philosophy of life in those lines, taken from his posthumous book, "Last Chapter." He never did think of the war in terms of official communiques and generals' strategy. It was guys like Sgt. Thomas Hill of St. Louis and Corp. Mickey Rovinsky of Edwardsville, Pa., who served in the mess hall, and it was thousands of others whom he knew personally, and whose joys and sorrows he sincerely shared.

In "Here Is Your War" and "Brave Men," a Book-of-the-Month Club selection, Ernie Pyle talked about the GI's war in Europe and Africa. He could have taken a rest after D-Day, but there was still the Pacific to win, and where the fighting was he felt he had to go. In the Marianas first and then living with the boys who flew the B-29s over the Japanese homeland, he saw a different kind of war. Next he joined an aircraft carrier on the invasion of Okinawa. He made the landing with the Marines and saw Okinawa secured. Then his luck ran out. A Japanese bullet killed Ernie Pyle on April 17, 1945, on Ie Shima. "Last Chapter" is the record he has left us of his Pacific experiences, up until the time of his death.

Even six months after we had the Marianas, there were still several hundred Japs in hiding. Ernie Pyle tells of one who, unlike his fellows, didn't take to the hills, but stayed for weeks right in the most thickly American-populated section of the island. He hid in the bushes just a few feet from a path where hundreds of Americans walked daily. They found out later that he even used the officers' outdoor shower bath after they got through and raided their kitchens at night. There was a Jap prison enclosure nearby, and peering out of the bushes he studied the fare of his fellow soldiers. Then one day he came out and gave himself up. He said he had convinced himself they were being treated all right, so he was ready to surrender.

* * * * *

When Margery Sharp's latest novel, "Britannia Mews," was selected by the Book-of-the-Month Club, her publishers wrote to England, asking her to bring them up to date on her activities. She replied, "I can't think of any new data except that I've just started to learn Greek with a resolute schoolboy for coach." And just to show that the Greeks did have a word for it, she wrote out their expression for "I love."

Rule all private water mains are taboo in Palatine

Monday evening the Palatine village board passed the water main extension ordinances for Chicago ave. and Hale St. These are the two ordinances that were defeated a month ago by a vote of 4 to 2 and against which some property owners strongly objected.

By the passage of these ordinances, the board has taken a definite stand against private mains and it is a safe bet that there will be no more permitted.

Private water mains and sewers are relics of old days and are only a make shift which ought never to have been permitted. The village board is unanimous in the stand to stamp out the evil.

The passage of the two ordinances may appear to be an unnecessary expense now, but it would have to come sometime.

DDT does it

Science scratches poison ivy off summer vacation list

Science has happy tidings this summer for American vacationists allergic to that "Dracula" of summer vegetation known as poison ivy. The good news comes in the form of a new war-born chemical called 2,4-D (Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid), now available to operators of vacation playgrounds and owners of summer homes and camps.

When sprayed on poison ivy plants, this new running mate of the other new chemical wonder, DDT, will render the obnoxious weed totally harmless. The nasty stuff collapses soon after spraying, as the chemical penetrates to the very roots of the plant and the plant actually strangles to death. Experiments conducted by Sherwin-Williams scientists show that 1,600 square feet of a weed-infested area can be covered with approximately $1.00 worth of the chemical 2-4-D, or Weed-No-More.

Each year additional thousands who have never contracted the malady before find themselves no longer immune; therefore cutting or pulling the plants and roots out by hand is a chance not worth risking. It has also been proved that ivy poisoning may be contracted merely by getting smoke on the body from fires in which the plants are being burned; therefore the method of killing them by spraying not only is simple and effective today, but eliminates any danger of a person becoming sensitized.

Once the ivy poisoning enters the blood stream the victim is usually faced with six more years of summer misery before it "burns" itself out. Merely being near the plant growth, even without actual contact, often causes a recurrence, according to past surveys of the malady.

Your weekly treat recipe

Hot summer days bring a need for lighter meals and healthful salads. Here's a grand way to prepare kidney beans in a tempting salad. This salad is satisfying enough to serve as a main luncheon course.

Kidney Bean Salad

3 cups drained canned (or cooked) kidney beans.
2 cups celery (chopped).
¼ cup green pepper (minced).
4 eggs (hard-cooked).
¼ lb. American cheese (cut in small cubes).
1 cup mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing.

Combine kidney beans, celery and green pepper. Add 2 hard-cooked eggs which have been chopped, the cheese and the salad dressing. Chill. Garnish bowl with remaining eggs, sliced and sprinkled with salt, pepper and paprika.

It Happened Here

Morning Breeze

When the meadow catches the first gold streak
A breeze springs up from the nearby creek;
Lightly it comes, with the light it dances,
Sifting the leaves with green-gold lances;
Tree whispers to tree and sunlight laces
Where cowslips grow in cool, damp places;
Then suddenly all the trees are rife
With twinkling, dancing, emerald life.

May is a slim, not too strong young woman, red-headed, tho, and asking no odds; she trims her own hedge, really a man's job, and the hedge is as flat as a plate from edge to edge, the admiration of all who pass. However did she get it so even? "That's my little secret," she said, "but I'll show you, see," she gripped the clippers with her elbows snugged close to her side, "my elbows won't go any higher."

Legion doubles its membership

Since V-J Day the American Legion membership in Cook county has nearly doubled that of any similar period in its long and patriotic history.

Double membership meant double work, which resulted in an increase of personnel in every branch of the organization to meet its obligation to all veterans. These obligations include such services as employment, hospitalization, insurance, compensation, rehabilitation, and numerous subjects coming within the scope of the Legion-sponsored GI Bill of Rights.

The Organization department of the Legion, which rarely comes in for much glory, renders a service which begins at the post level, which brings us down into the roots of the Legion. The Legion post makes up the heart and soul of the organization, and there are 384 such posts in Cook county alone, with a total membership of 82,514. The county area comes under the supervision of the Organization department, which maintains a headquarters at 343 S. Dearborn st., where all information concerning Legion activities is received and in turn disseminated.

Since V-J Day the major task of the organization office has been that of counseling groups of veterans of World War II anxious to organize posts of their own. Nearly 100 such posts are now functioning in Cook county.

The Organization office of the Legion is at the service of any war veteran, and stands ready to serve him in all matters pertaining to comradeship. The American Legion is an organization dedicated to devotion to country and to the mutual helpfulness of its members.

"Rain or Shine" on Sunday, June 23rd, provisions have been made to provide protection in case of bad weather for the dairymen attending and the cattle on exhibition at the Northern Illinois Dairy Cattle Breeding Association's "Proof of the Pudding" Open House, according to information furnished by William McCredie, treasurer of the association.

This outstanding cattle event will be held at the bull barn of the association located on route 72 about one mile east of Dundee. The program planned for the day will provide ample time for those in attendance to visit with their friends and neighbors as well as to study the type and pedigrees of the bulls of the association. A short speaking program will be held starting at 1:30 p. m. daylight saving time. Those appearing on the program will include: Prof. C. S. Rhode, Dairy Department College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, A. C. Oosterhuis, Oconomowoc, Wis., former president of the Holstein-Fresian Association of America.

At this open house, forty daughters of association bulls will be on display to an anticipated attendance of 1000 dairymen from over 20 counties in Northern Illinois and others from adjoining states. At present there are 15 counties utilizing the breeding program of this cooperative organization. Four or five other counties are soon expecting to have enough cows signed up so that it will be practical to hire a technician to go to work for a local unit of the association.

Guernsey breeders in increasing numbers from these counties are now cooperating with this association.

Good fertilizer program needed for high yields

A good fertilizer program is essential for increasing crop yields, but fertilizer alone will not bring high yields, advises Roger H. Bray, professor of soil fertility, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The first step in building up soil for improved yields is to find out whether it lacks essential nutrients. This the farmer does by sampling his fields according to directions which he can obtain from his farm adviser. The farm adviser then has the samples tested for limestone, phosphate and potash requirements. Thus the farmer can know accurately how much of each his soil needs.

But adding these fertilizers to the soil is only the first step. All crops need large amounts of nitrogen. The other fertilizers will be nearly useless without enough nitrogen to put them to work growing bigger crops.

Although nitrogen can be supplied from a fertilizer bag, it lacks the value of nitrogen added to the soil through growing legumes.

Using legumes instead of nitrogen fertilizer kills two birds with one stone! It adds nitrogen to the soil and at the same time supplies organic matter which the soil must have in order to yield well.

Soils rich in all the nutrients, including nitrogen, do not necessarily give high yields unless they are also put into the right physical condition. Plants need loose soil with good moisture-holding capacity. They need air in the soil in order to absorb nutrients and grow a good root system. A skillful farmer prepares this kind of soil by adding enough organic matter to it: by turning under all crop residues and by growing legumes as green manure crops.

Bray stresses the important fact that both the physical and the chemical, or nutrient, condition of the soil must be favorable if higher yields are to be obtained. He adds that soil testing is available to every farmer in the state.

"Farmers we find since the soil laboratory has been set up," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, "are having tests made of their whole farm as a future long time guide to better farming they expect to do."

Legion doubles its membership

Since V-J Day the American Legion membership in Cook county has nearly doubled that of any similar period in its long and patriotic history.

Double membership meant double work, which resulted in an increase of personnel in every branch of the organization to meet its obligation to all veterans. These obligations include such services as employment, hospitalization, insurance, compensation, rehabilitation, and numerous subjects coming within the scope of the Legion-sponsored GI Bill of Rights.

The Organization department of the Legion, which rarely comes in for much glory, renders a service which begins at the post level, which brings us down into the roots of the Legion. The Legion post makes up the heart and soul of the organization, and there are 384 such posts in Cook county alone, with a total membership of 82,514. The county area comes under the supervision of the Organization department, which maintains a headquarters at 343 S. Dearborn st., where all information concerning Legion activities is received and in turn disseminated.

Since V-J Day the major task of the organization office has been that of counseling groups of veterans of World War II anxious to organize posts of their own. Nearly 100 such posts are now functioning in Cook county.

The Organization office of the Legion is at the service of any war veteran, and stands ready to serve him in all matters pertaining to comradeship. The American Legion is an organization dedicated to devotion to country and to the mutual helpfulness of its members.

Good fertilizer program needed for high yields

A good fertilizer program is essential for increasing crop yields, but fertilizer alone will not bring high yields, advises Roger H. Bray, professor of soil fertility, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The first step in building up soil for improved yields is to find out whether it lacks essential nutrients. This the farmer does by sampling his fields according to directions which he can obtain from his farm adviser. The farm adviser then has the samples tested for limestone, phosphate and potash requirements. Thus the farmer can know accurately how much of each his soil needs.

But adding these fertilizers to the soil is only the first step. All crops need large amounts of nitrogen. The other fertilizers will be nearly useless without enough nitrogen to put them to work growing bigger crops.

Although nitrogen can be supplied from a fertilizer bag, it lacks the value of nitrogen added to the soil through growing legumes.

Using legumes instead of nitrogen fertilizer kills two birds with one stone! It adds nitrogen to the soil and at the same time supplies organic matter which the soil must have in order to yield well.

Soils rich in all the nutrients, including nitrogen, do not necessarily give high yields unless they are also put into the right physical condition. Plants need loose soil with good moisture-holding capacity. They need air in the soil in order to absorb nutrients and grow a good root system. A skillful farmer prepares this kind of soil by adding enough organic matter to it: by turning under all crop residues and by growing legumes as green manure crops.

Bray stresses the important fact that both the physical and the chemical, or nutrient, condition of the soil must be favorable if higher yields are to be obtained. He adds that soil testing is available to every farmer in the state.

"Farmers we find since the soil laboratory has been set up," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, "are having tests made of their whole farm as a future long time guide to better farming they expect to do."

Bride-Ales

Brides may be surprised to know that the word "bridal" comes from the word "bride-ale." Bride-ales were old English wedding feasts at which ale was the chief drink. Other festivals were also called "ales" when the drink was served.

To view bulls that increased fat 100 pounds

"Rain or Shine" on Sunday, June 23rd, provisions have been made to provide protection in case of bad weather for the dairymen attending and the cattle on exhibition at the Northern Illinois Dairy Cattle Breeding Association's "Proof of the Pudding" Open House, according to information furnished by William McCredie, treasurer of the association.

This outstanding cattle event will be held at the bull barn of the association located on route 72 about one mile east of Dundee. The program planned for the day will provide ample time for those in attendance to visit with their friends and neighbors as well as to study the type and pedigrees of the bulls of the association. A short speaking program will be held starting at 1:30 p. m. daylight saving time. Those appearing on the program will include: Prof. C. S. Rhode, Dairy Department College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, A. C. Oosterhuis, Oconomowoc, Wis., former president of the Holstein-Fresian Association of America.

At this open house, forty daughters of association bulls will be on display to an anticipated attendance of 1000 dairymen from over 20 counties in Northern Illinois and others from adjoining states. At present there are 15 counties utilizing the breeding program of this cooperative organization. Four or five other counties are soon expecting to have enough cows signed up so that it will be practical to hire a technician to go to work for a local unit of the association.

Guernsey breeders in increasing numbers from these counties are now cooperating with this association.

Farm bureau and zoning authority seek subdivision restrictions

As an outgrowth of a question that has been carefully considered by leaders in the Cook County Farm Bureau along with the Cook County Zoning Authority and the Public Health Authority of the county, two pieces of legislation have been introduced by the Illinois Agricultural Association that would assist in correcting difficulties that farmers have been experiencing for some time. So far these bills have passed the Senate at Springfield and are now before the legislature. There are two bills.

One gives the county board authority to set up standards for streets, drainage, and water supplies in new subdivisions. Lots henceforth will be of a size that adequate septic tanks, can be installed and operate efficiently. These vary with different types of soils in the county. Also a standard of streets and surface material will be required in a proposed subdivision before lots would be offered for sale. Most important is the matter of drainage. We have in this county many subdivisions laid out in sections that are improperly drained for subdivision purposes but still adequate for farming. Settlers coming into these subdivisions realize in time that they need better drainage and perhaps sewers and then agitation is begun through a drainage district to get adjacent farm land to bail them out of a bad situation they were led into unwittingly. There are a number of such conditions in the county at the present time.

Another bill provides for minimum F. H. A. restrictions on housing. This would prevent many of the cheaper types of structures that are going into subdivisions.

The only objection that has been raised apparently is the fact that this legislation might prevent people of moderate means from building and owning their own homes. However the answer to this objection offered by the proponents of this legislation is that it would prevent poorer people from being victimized and sold land at a minimum figure realizing that later on there will be expenditures for road purposes, that their drainage and sewage is inadequate, that wells cannot be approved and then calling upon the permanent settlers in the neighborhood to help them out of a bad situation. There is no restriction on the part of anyone from owning homes so long as this does not require a local community to subsidize these improvements that are not made when the subdivision is laid out. The Cook County Zoning Commission with the assistance of the Chicago Real Estate Board and the Farm Bureau are drawing up regulations to present to the Cook County Board of Commissioners for their adoption when and if this legislation becomes law.

Lake Zurich playhouse to open next Friday

The New Lake Zurich Playhouse in Lake Zurich has announced plans for a second season of summer entertainment opening June 28 with their production of the well known Broadway hit, "Claudia", by Rose Franken. This gay comedy of marital troubles marks the opening of a repertoire of nine plays, continuing their policy of a different show each weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Again under the capable direction of Bella D. Itkin, a director at the Goodman Theatre and assistant head of the School of Drama of DePaul University, the company of twenty-two experienced actors, directors, designers and technicians will present such outstanding favorites as "Arsenic And Old Lace", "Kind Lady", "East Lynne", "Hayfever", "The Rivals", "The Male Animal", "The Philadelphia Story", and an original premiere, "Driftwood", by Maurice Tei Dunn.

It is extremely difficult to match the high standards set forth by this amazing active little theatre, for it is compiled of people with a sincere, forward attitude and extremely high ideals. They believe that the finer things of the theatre can be good entertainment. They do not and never shall underate the intelligence of the American Theatre going audience by offering them anything but the best in entertainment values.

This year, to cope with the rapidly rising cost of living they have made only the slightest changes in their admission prices necessary to keep building their rapidly growing reputation into that of one of the finest organizations of its kind in the country.

Red Cross offers courses to treat minor injuries

Prepare yourself to treat minor injuries during your summer vacation by enrolling in a Red Cross standard first aid course. The next class will open Wednesday evening, July 10, at the Chicago Chapter Red Cross headquarters, 529 South Wabash ave.

Students will learn how to recognize poisonous plants, venomous snakes and dangerous insects, and how to give emergency care for bites and infection.

Applicants may enroll in a Red Cross standard first aid course by phoning WABash 7850.

One of three autos defective

One out of every three vehicles examined by the nation's traffic police during the first ten days of the Police Traffic Safety Check program failed to meet minimum safety standards.

A total of 163,567 vehicles were checked in 23 states between May 15 and May 26. Police found 57,804 vehicles — a total of 35.3 per cent — with defective brakes, tires, lights, horns, windshield wipers or other parts.

The reports show a total of 81,742 defects found in the vehicles tested. Of these, inadequate brakes accounted for 11,075, or 13.5 per cent; defective tires, 4,087 or 5 per cent; faulty front lights, 18,383, or 22.5 per cent; rear or stop lights, 24,480 or 29.9 per cent; windshield wipers not operating, 7,802, or 9.5 per cent; defective horns, 7,218, or 8.8 per cent. Other obvious and hazardous defects totaled 8,689 to account for 10.6 per cent of the total defects.

Stars and Stripes

On most railroads the star represents 25 years of service, and each bar or stripe represents five years of service. Thus, three bars indicate the wearer has been in the railroad's service for 15 or more years, four bars indicate 20 or more years of service; a star and two bars indicate 35 or more years of service and so on.

The only objection that has been raised apparently is the fact that this legislation might prevent people of moderate means from building and owning their own homes. However the answer to this objection offered by the proponents of this legislation is that it would prevent poorer people from being victimized and sold land at a minimum figure realizing that later on there will be expenditures for road purposes, that their drainage and sewage is inadequate, that wells cannot be approved and then calling upon the permanent settlers in the neighborhood to help them out of a bad situation. There is no restriction on the part of anyone from owning homes so long as this does not require a local community to subsidize these improvements that are not made when the subdivision is laid out. The Cook County Zoning Commission with the assistance of the Chicago Real Estate Board and the Farm Bureau are drawing up regulations to present to the Cook County Board of Commissioners for their adoption when and if this legislation becomes law.

One of three autos defective

One out of every three vehicles examined by the nation's traffic police during the first ten days of the Police Traffic Safety Check program failed to meet minimum safety standards.

A total of 163,567 vehicles were checked in 23 states between May 15 and May 26. Police found 57,304 vehicles — a total of 35.3 per cent — with defective brakes, tires, lights, horns, windshield wipers or other parts.

The reports show a total of 81,742 defects found in the vehicles tested. Of these, inadequate brakes accounted for 11,075, or 13.5 per cent; defective tires, 4,087 or 5 per cent; faulty front lights, 18,383, or 22.5 per cent; rear or stop lights, 24,430 or 29.9 per cent; windshield wipers not operating, 7,802, or 9.5 per cent; defective horns, 7,218, or 8.8 per cent. Other obvious and hazardous defects totaled 8,689 to account for 10.6 per cent of the total defects.

Stars and Stripes

On most railroads the star represents 25 years of service, and each bar or stripe represents five years of service. Thus, three bars indicate the wearer has been in the railroad's service for 15 or more years, four bars indicate 20 or more years of service; a star and two bars indicate 35 or more years of service and so on.

Lake Zurich playhouse to open next Friday

The New Lake Zurich Playhouse in Lake Zurich has announced plans for a second season of summer entertainment opening June 28 with their production of the well known Broadway hit, "Claudia", by Rose Franken. This gay comedy of marital troubles marks the opening of a repertoire of nine plays, continuing their policy of a different show each weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Again under the capable direction of Bella D. Itkin, a director at the Goodman Theatre and assistant head of the School of Drama of DePaul University, the company of twenty-two experienced actors, directors, designers and technicians will present such outstanding favorites as "Arsenic And Old Lace", "Kind Lady", "East Lynne", "Hayfever", "The Rivals", "The Male Animal", "The Philadelphia Story", and an original premiere, "Driftwood", by Maurice Tei Dunn.

It is extremely difficult to match the high standards set forth by this amazing active little theatre, for it is compiled of people with a sincere, forward attitude and extremely high ideals. They believe that the finer things of the theatre can be good entertainment. They do not and never shall underate the intelligence of the American Theatre going audience by offering them anything but the best in entertainment values.

This year, to cope with the rapidly rising cost of living they have made only the slightest changes in their admission prices necessary to keep building their rapidly growing reputation into that of one of the finest organizations of its kind in the country.

Army to buy dogs for service

The United States Army wants to buy dogs for the K-9 Corps. To assist it in obtaining dogs of suitable type and character, the Army Dog Association, composed of persons active in dog raising has been formed and is arranging for a canine assembly to which those with dogs meeting the desired specifications can bring them for possible purchase by representatives of the Quartermaster Corps, Colonel E. DeTreville Ellis, Commanding Officer of the Chicago Quartermaster Depot, announced today.

On the basis of experience gained during the war when the German shepherds did outstanding work as messengers, scout dogs, and sentry dogs, it has been decided to concentrate on that breed. Most of the war dogs, like so many of the soldiers, have been demobilized and it is necessary to fill up the ranks with new recruits. During the war, the armed services depended on donations of dogs through "Dogs for Defense." That, however, was to meet the emergency of actual warfare. As a permanent policy, it has been felt desirable to purchase the dogs just as other animals are purchased, Colonel Ellis said.

With this end in view, the following specifications have been drafted. The dogs, to meet military requirements, must be purebred German shepherd males, between the ages of one and three-and-one-half years. They must be well boned, of good type, with erect ears and properly carried tails, sound in mind and body, and free from disease. They must stand between 24 and 26 inches in height at the shoulder and weigh from 70 to 90 pounds. Any color will be acceptable except solid white or coats containing conspicuous white markings. For Army use, dogs must be steady and fearless in disposition. Shy, nervous or timid dogs will not be accepted. The price paid for dogs which the Army feels meets its needs will not exceed $150.

Persons who feel that they have dogs meeting these specifications and who would be willing to part with them to help meet the Army's immediate needs for dogs, are urged to notify Raymond C. Smith, Box 331, Demarest, New Jersey. As soon as the details of the proposed sales rally have been completed, they will be notified when and where to take their dogs to have them examined by representatives of the Army Dog Association.

Mayfairs win in Heights softball

Irv Jiran pitched the Mayfair Food team to a 7-3 victory over the DuPage boys last week in the Arlington Heights softball league. Bob and Boots MacDougall sparked Mayfair's attack with two hits apiece. Kohler played a great defensive game at first for the Heights entry. Gullier, DuPage pitcher, was the star for the day for DuPage.

It was just too much for Art Luerrsen of the Arlington Legion nine when they succumbed to Klehms, 5-2. K. Klehm banged out two hits to pace the victors. Bobby Firnback hit a home run for the Legion.

In the third game of the week the DuPage squad played their best game to date, but fielding lapses gave Rose Lo five runs, enabling them to beat the DuPagers, 10-5.

Poole Fords lose practice tilt to Franklin Park

Saturday afternoon the Arlington Heights Junior Legion baseball team, the George Poole Fords, opened its 1946 season with a practice game with the Franklin Park Trojans. The outcome was an 11-9 defeat at the hands of the invaders.

The Fords started very slowly, at one time trailing 8-0. In the home eighth they were able to push two markers across the plate and in their half of the ninth spurted to knot the count at 8 all with an impressive six run outburst. In the tenth inning the Fords acquired the jitters and the visitors tallied three runs to come out on top.

The local boys did exceptionally well for not having played together and with a little more practice should develop into a powerful team.

The team includes boys from Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Northbrook and Bensenville.

The starting lineup Saturday was Bob Wille, 2b; Jim Miller, 1b; Art Esp, c; Joe Vuglar, lf; Gail Bach, 3b; Elmer Wille, ss; Marvin Berschet, rf; Milton Simon, cf; and Chuck Bracke and Bob Thollander, pitching.

The Fords travel to Franklin Park Saturday hoping to avenge their defeat. You'll be hearing more from these boys so watch for the next home game.

Suburban team all set for all-star game Wrigley field

by Tommy Kouzmanoff

Selection of the City League All-Stars for the spectacular all-star high school baseball game July 1 at Wrigley Field is under way.

Four players — the best in the Central section — this week were named to play against the Chicago Area All-Stars in high school baseball's "dream game".

They are Harry Stiles, shortstop, Tilden Tech; Tony Videka, second base, Kelly; Dick Kobilarcik, third base, Gage Park and George Antczak, pitcher, Harrison Tech.

The coaches, with whose cooperation the selections were made, were high on all four boys and here are a few reasons why:

Stiles broke into the Tilden lineup in the middle of his sophomore season. He played in the last seven games and rapped out 13 hits in 20 trips to the plate for an astronomical .650 average.

Harry played every game last year and came through with a fine .481 mark. This season, however, rival pitchers had their orders to either walk him or make him bite at bad pitches. That accounts for his drop to .342.

Videka was the star of the recent state tournament in which Kelly took runnerup honors. In addition to popping open the watchful eyes of major league scouts with his sensational fielding, Tony collected six hits in 10 tries. His average in league play was .333.

Kobilarcik is death on ground balls at the hot corner and he throws strikes across the infield. Dick may wear glasses, but they don't hamper his efforts a bit. His league batting average was .417.

Antczak is a mean southpaw on the mound. He won six of his nine league starts, all against the toughest teams, struck out 95 and had an earned run average of .166 per inning.

Thirteen more players will be selected from the three other sections by the end of the week for the colorful contest which will be played as the second game of a doubleheader. The Cubs-Pittsburgh Pirates game will precede at 1:30 p. m.

The Chicago Area All-Stars squad is complete. The 17 players are John Lane, p-of, Niles; Don Voss, c-p, Leyden; Jack Flock, 3b, Barrington; Bill Klauss, p-3b, Grant; Ed Trandel, p-of, St. Rita; Johnny Bartosik, p-of, Holy Trinity; Joe Pahr, c, Luther; Ronnie Schech, Luther, cf; Ken Eddy, 1b, North Shore; Johnny Karras, 1b, Argo; Bob Simonetti, ss, Bloom; Bruce Adams, c, Kankakee; Herb Adams, p-of, Oak Park; Bud Bray, 2b, New Trier; Bill Suchy, p, Morton; Eddie Gilbert, p-of, Proviso; Herb Agase, p-of, Evanston.

Mayfairs win in Heights softball

Irv Jiran pitched the Mayfair Food team to a 7-3 victory over the DuPage boys last week in the Arlington Heights softball league. Bob and Boots MacDougall sparked Mayfair's attack with two hits apiece. Kohler played a great defensive game at first for the Heights entry. Gullier, DuPage pitcher, was the star for the day for DuPage.

It was just too much for Art Luerrsen of the Arlington Legion nine when they succumbed to Klehms, 5-2. K. Klehm banged out two hits to pace the victors. Bobby Firnback hit a home run for the Legion.

In the third game of the week the DuPage squad played their best game to date, but fielding lapses gave Rose Lo five runs, enabling them to beat the DuPagers, 10-5.

Suburban team all set for all-star game Wrigley field

by Tommy Kouzmanoff

Selection of the City League All-Stars for the spectacular all-star high school baseball game July 1 at Wrigley Field is under way.

Four players — the best in the Central section — this week were named to play against the Chicago Area All-Stars in high school baseball's "dream game".

They are Harry Stiles, shortstop, Tilden Tech; Tony Videka, second base, Kelly; Dick Kobilarcik, third base, Gage Park and George Antczak, pitcher, Harrison Tech.

The coaches, with whose cooperation the selections were made, were high on all four boys and here are a few reasons why:

Stiles broke into the Tilden lineup in the middle of his sophomore season. He played in the last seven games and rapped out 13 hits in 20 trips to the plate for an astronomical .650 average.

Harry played every game last year and came through with a fine .481 mark. This season, however, rival pitchers had their orders to either walk him or make him bite at bad pitches. That accounts for his drop to .342.

Novel system sends gift food packets to starving Greece

Spyros Skouras, national president of the Greek War Relief Association, in a message to 1,600 local Greek War Relief chapters opening the Association's unique ing the Association's unique $12.75 35-lb. "Food Parcel Plan", stated that "beginning February of this year UNRRA was forced to cut wheat imports to Greece 15%; this was followed by a 5% cut in March." In May, Greece's 7,000,000 population received but 50,000 tons of wheat, placing the country on a semi-starvation level of 1,100 calories per person per day.

It is now forecast that the May supply of 50,000 tons will be cut June first 50 to 60 percent.

The GWRA Food Parcel campaign which opens officially in New York City this week calls on America to purchase 30,000 35-lb. parcels each month for shipment overseas — these parcels will give Greece monthly more than one million pounds of staple foods.

Each 35-lb. parcel contains only staple food items suitable to Greek tastes: 5 lbs. macaroni, 2 lbs. spaghetti, 5 lbs. coffee, 2 lbs. sugar, 2 lbs. shortening, 3 cans ham, 3 cans condensed milk, canned fish, dried milk, cocoa, soups, cereals and other essential fats and oils.

This is the first non-profit individual food package plan to be operated by an American relief organization. The one price of $12.75 includes not only the cost of the 35 lbs. of nutritious foods, but also the cost of packing, shipping, insurance and actual delivery in any part of Greece

In order to assure prompt delivery throughout Greece, the Association stockpiles food parcels in strategic centers. These parcels form the strategic food depots out of which the Association can make deliveries. Mass parcel orders are wired these stockpiles each night from America by the Association. When, for example, an individual in America places his $12.75 order with the Association, that night a cable goes out to the appropriate depot informing them to fill the order and begin delivery the following morning. By so telegraphing orders, the Association cuts the average package delivery time by from 4 to 6 weeks.

This saving, officials estimate, will allow parcels to be delivered from the time orders are placed until the food is actually in the recipient's hands in about two weeks. No package is opened or tampered with for the Greek Ministry of Finance has granted exclusive rights to the Greek War Relief to make mass imports of packages duty free and without custom inspection.

American nutrition experts who assembled the package are confident that its contents can feed an average family of a man and wife with four children more than a week. They say that because no luxury foods are included, the staples provide the most convenient means of supplementing whatever food supplies the family now has on hand.

Novel system sends gift food packets to starving Greece

Spyros Skouras, national president of the Greek War Relief Association, in a message to 1,600 local Greek War Relief chapters opening the Association's unique ing the Association's unique $12.75 35-lb. "Food Parcel Plan", stated that "beginning February of this year UNRRA was forced to cut wheat imports to Greece 15%; this was followed by a 5% cut in March." In May, Greece's 7,000,000 population received but 50,000 tons of wheat, placing the country on a semi-starvation level of 1,100 calories per person per day.

It is now forecast that the May supply of 50,000 tons will be cut June first 50 to 60 percent.

The GWRA Food Parcel campaign which opens officially in New York City this week calls on America to purchase 30,000 35-lb. parcels each month for shipment overseas — these parcels will give Greece monthly more than one million pounds of staple foods.

Each 35-lb. parcel contains only staple food items suitable to Greek tastes: 5 lbs. macaroni, 2 lbs. spaghetti, 5 lbs. coffee, 2 lbs. sugar, 2 lbs. shortening, 3 cans ham, 3 cans condensed milk, canned fish, dried milk, cocoa, soups, cereals and other essential fats and oils.

This is the first non-profit individual food package plan to be operated by an American relief organization. The one price of $12.75 includes not only the cost of the 35 lbs. of nutritious foods, but also the cost of packing, shipping, insurance and actual delivery in any part of Greece

In order to assure prompt delivery throughout Greece, the Association stockpiles food parcels in strategic centers. These parcels form the strategic food depots out of which the Association can make deliveries. Mass parcel orders are wired these stockpiles each night from America by the Association. When, for example, an individual in America places his $12.75 order with the Association, that night a cable goes out to the appropriate depot informing them to fill the order and begin delivery the following morning. By so telegraphing orders, the Association cuts the average package delivery time by from 4 to 6 weeks.

This saving, officials estimate, will allow parcels to be delivered from the time orders are placed until the food is actually in the recipient's hands in about two weeks. No package is opened or tampered with for the Greek Ministry of Finance has granted exclusive rights to the Greek War Relief to make mass imports of packages duty free and without custom inspection.

American nutrition experts who assembled the package are confident that its contents can feed an average family of a man and wife with four children more than a week. They say that because no luxury foods are included, the staples provide the most convenient means of supplementing whatever food supplies the family now has on hand.

Air Medals to Adolph Busse posthumously

Adolph Henry Busse, aviation ordnanceman, first class, USNR, son of Mr. Adolph Henry Busse, Sr., Arlington Heights, has been awarded posthumously the Air Medal and two Gold Stars in lieu of his second and third Air Medals by Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal for the President.

Busse earned the award as aircrewman of a bombing plane in Patrol Bombing Squadron 119 operating against enemy forces in the Pacific from March 2 to April 19, 1945.

Texts of the citations are as follows:

"For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as aircrewman of a bombing plane in Patrol Bombing Squadron 119, operating against enemy Japanese forces in the Pacific from March 2 to April 19, 1945. Participating in five missions during this period, Busse rendered gallant service and by his cool courage and aggressive determination contributed materially to the success of his squadron's aerial operations. His outstanding skill and unswerving devotion to duty in the face of grave hazards were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Discharged

Now out of service is Charles Bock of Palatine.

"I received my discharge from the navy on June 7. I want to thank everyone who was responsible for sending me the Palatine Enterprise. I received my discharge at Camp Shelton, Va."

Strawberry to be king Saturday in Prospect Hts.

Strawberries! Strawberries! . . . Nice juicy strawberries! That was the chief topic of discussion in Prospect Heights during the past week. Gardens were being stripped, packed by experts, and luscious big berries were being boxed and placed in freezers. Ladies were baking delicious cakes and local singers and musicians were practicing for the third annual Strawberry Festival which takes place Saturday evening at Torreyson's Courts.

The Courts have been made ready for the hundreds of visitors who will come from all over Chicagoland to attend this well known social event. Doings start at 6:30 o'clock when servings of ice cream smothered with strawberries, together with the "surprise" characterization will feature the variety show which is under the leadership of Einar Larsen.

The Festival, sponsored by the Community Women's Guild, is one of the principal attractions of the many outstanding events being offered by Prospect Heights in connection with its 10th Anniversary as a village.

The beautiful Torreyson Courts offer an attractive outdoor setting for the Strawberry Festival. There is no admittance fee or cover charge of any sort, just a neighborly "get acquainted" with each other and the strawberries for which Prospect Heights is famous. Serving of ice cream, berries and cake will be 60c for adults and 25c for children.

Decorations are under the supervision of Mrs. Warren E. Morris. Mr. Carl K. Stehman will be in charge of ice cream, Mrs. Howard Spenks mistress of the strawberries with Mrs. W. O. Kelsey in charge of the servings.

Mrs. Kurt M. Krebs is chairman of the Festival Committee and Mrs. John G. Spillar, president of the Women's Guild, will be ably assisted by a large number of ladies of the guild in seeing that every person attending really has a good time.

VFW news

Annual meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., June 3, 1946

Until all responsible government heads are made to realize that the measure of a nation's true greatness is the spiritual stature of its people, rather than its physical resources, there can be no end to the conflict between materially mental forces that precipitated World War II, The Christian Science Board of Directors told the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, today.

The time has come, the Directors affirmed, when representatives of all social and religious systems are being called upon to give something more convincing than promises, preachments, and paganistic pageantries to sustain the faith of their fellows, and to provide for a lasting peace.

If these systems are to survive, declared the official spokesmen of the world-embracing Christian Science movement, they must "furnish proof that the ideals for which they stand can be made of practical use in advancing the cultural, economic and spiritual welfare of the race."

This statement from the Directors was given before thousands of Christian Scientists attending the first peacetime Annual Meeting in five years, many of whom came from countries long shut off from the world by war. They brought with them vital lessons from the troubled years just passed to emphasize the Directors' contention that "the supreme duty of statesmen and churchmen at this crucial hour is to use every means at their command to prevent another world conflict and to bind up the unhealed wounds left by the last one."

"This is no time for them to resort either to subterfuge or aggression as a means of extending the political influence of any church or state," the statement said.

Continuing on these lines, the Directors insisted that "there is no room in the church for politics, and in a democratic system of government there is no room in politics for the church. There is, however, always room in politics for the moral sense of religion."

Applying that statement with equal force to national and international affairs, the Directors added: "It makes little difference whether it be a conflict between political ideologies and religious dogmas or an open warfare between armed forces; the results are always stultifying.

"If those who are today engaged in the grave task of building a world government for the purpose of establishing permanent and universal peace on earth, fail to turn to God for guidance and fail to make spiritual integrity the very foundational stone in their structures, they will have labored in vain."

Awareness of the basic national need for divine guidance evoked a profound statement from Benjamin Franklin during the heated Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia, which the Directors cited as still apropos in today's problems. Quoting the familiar Scriptural passage, "Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it," Franklin added: "I firmly believe this: and I also believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel; we shall be divided by our little, partial local interests. . . And what is worse, mankind may hereafter from this unfortunate instance despair of establishing governments by human wisdom and leave it to chance, war, and conquest."

In the present unsettled economic and political picture, the Christian Scientists' official governing body envisaged conditions fraught with the same evil consequences as in Franklin's day. And they assured the Annual Meeting that "it is just as true now as it was then that without God's guidance and the spiritual support of the church, no government, either national or international, can successfully cope with these difficulties."

Other high lights of the annual gathering were the announcements that all major Christian Science periodicals, including The Christian Science Monitor, attained new high circulation peaks in the last year, that the volume of Monitor advertising established a new high record of some 20,000 regular contributors, and that religious contacts have been rapidly renewed with many foreign lands since the end of the war.

Modern new presses, introducing four-color advertising and four-color feature material, will be installed as part of the equipment of the Monitor, possibly this fall, it was reported by the Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society.

The Trustees also disclosed that the Monitor's regular staff correspondent has been returned to Russia, and that special peacetime correspondents have been assigned for the first time to the Far East and Middle East.

Plans to document the records of Christian Science wartime activities of the last conflict in a book to be published early in 1947 were disclosed by the Trustees. The vast scope of these activities was covered in another report, showing that 135 paid Wartime Ministers, 26 Chaplains and 495 volunteer Wartime Workers were engaged at the peak of war activities in Canada and the United States alone.

In Great Britain, 135 Christian Science Rest Centers for the troops were established, and 330 almoners were appointed to dispense relief, it was disclosed. Appointment of nearly 500 volunteer Wartime Workers, from members of the British and United States armed forces, supplemented the work of 20 Officiating Ministers and Authorized Workers under British and Australian commands abroad.

In the field of relief, clothing valued conservatively at $4,250,000 has been shipped and distributed, irrespective of race or creed, through Christian Science channels in at least 13 foreign countries, according to the report of the Clerk of The Mother Church. In addition, over 550,000 handknitted garments were said to have been distributed among the armed forces.

In the field of legislation, a number of provisions favorable to Christian Science were included in state laws, city ordinances and in administrative regulations during 1945, it was reported by the Committee on Publication. Extreme alertness was the theme of this report in protecting "the constitutional and God-given rights of Christian Scientists" against health and social legislation which would interfere with the practice of their religion.

Announcement of the appointment of Luther Phillips Cudworth, C. S. B., of Boston, as President of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, was made today by The Christian Science Board of Directors.

Mr. Cudworth at various times has served as Purchasing Agent of The Christian Science Publishing Society, a Director of Christian Science Welfare Activities in Portsmouth (New Hampshire) Naval Prison, Committee on Publication for the State of Oregon, and as First Reader of First Church of Christ, Scientist,

He is a native of Iowa, receiving his early education in the Marshfield, Massachusetts. public schools of St. Paul, Minnesota, and later attending Harvard University and its College of Business Administration. Before devoting his entire time to Christian Science activities, he was associated with the printing and publishing business in St. Paul, and with the Portland, Oregon, Railway, Light and Power Company.

He received instruction in the Normal class of the Board of Education in 1934, and since that time has taught classes in Christian Science annually.

Annual meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., June 3, 1946

Until all responsible government heads are made to realize that the measure of a nation's true greatness is the spiritual stature of its people, rather than its physical resources, there can be no end to the conflict between materially mental forces that precipitated World War II, The Christian Science Board of Directors told the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, today.

The time has come, the Directors affirmed, when representatives of all social and religious systems are being called upon to give something more convincing than promises, preachments, and paganistic pageantries to sustain the faith of their fellows, and to provide for a lasting peace.

If these systems are to survive, declared the official spokesmen of the world-embracing Christian Science movement, they must "furnish proof that the ideals for which they stand can be made of practical use in advancing the cultural, economic and spiritual welfare of the race."

This statement from the Directors was given before thousands of Christian Scientists attending the first peacetime Annual Meeting in five years, many of whom came from countries long shut off from the world by war. They brought with them vital lessons from the troubled years just passed to emphasize the Directors' contention that "the supreme duty of statesmen and churchmen at this crucial hour is to use every means at their command to prevent another world conflict and to bind up the unhealed wounds left by the last one."

"This is no time for them to resort either to subterfuge or aggression as a means of extending the political influence of any church or state," the statement said.

Continuing on these lines, the Directors insisted that "there is no room in the church for politics, and in a democratic system of government there is no room in politics for the church. There is, however, always room in politics for the moral sense of religion."

Applying that statement with equal force to national and international affairs, the Directors added: "It makes little difference whether it be a conflict between political ideologies and religious dogmas or an open warfare between armed forces; the results are always stultifying.

"If those who are today engaged in the grave task of building a world government for the purpose of establishing permanent and universal peace on earth, fail to turn to God for guidance and fail to make spiritual integrity the very foundational stone in their structures, they will have labored in vain."

Awareness of the basic national need for divine guidance evoked a profound statement from Benjamin Franklin during the heated Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia, which the Directors cited as still apropos in today's problems. Quoting the familiar Scriptural passage, "Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it," Franklin added: "I firmly believe this: and I also believe that without His concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel; we shall be divided by our little, partial local interests. . . And what is worse, mankind may hereafter from this unfortunate instance despair of establishing governments by human wisdom and leave it to chance, war, and conquest."

In the present unsettled economic and political picture, the Christian Scientists' official governing body envisaged conditions fraught with the same evil consequences as in Franklin's day. And they assured the Annual Meeting that "it is just as true now as it was then that without God's guidance and the spiritual support of the church, no government, either national or international, can successfully cope with these difficulties."

Other high lights of the annual gathering were the announcements that all major Christian Science periodicals, including The Christian Science Monitor, attained new high circulation peaks in the last year, that the volume of Monitor advertising established a new high record of some 20,000 regular contributors, and that religious contacts have been rapidly renewed with many foreign lands since the end of the war.

Modern new presses, introducing four-color advertising and four-color feature material, will be installed as part of the equipment of the Monitor, possibly this fall, it was reported by the Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society.

The Trustees also disclosed that the Monitor's regular staff correspondent has been returned to Russia, and that special peacetime correspondents have been assigned for the first time to the Far East and Middle East.

Plans to document the records of Christian Science wartime activities of the last conflict in a book to be published early in 1947 were disclosed by the Trustees. The vast scope of these activities was covered in another report, showing that 135 paid Wartime Ministers, 26 Chaplains and 495 volunteer Wartime Workers were engaged at the peak of war activities in Canada and the United States alone.

In Great Britain, 135 Christian Science Rest Centers for the troops were established, and 330 almoners were appointed to dispense relief, it was disclosed. Appointment of nearly 500 volunteer Wartime Workers, from members of the British and United States armed forces, supplemented the work of 20 Officiating Ministers and Authorized Workers under British and Australian commands abroad.

In the field of relief, clothing valued conservatively at $4,250,000 has been shipped and distributed, irrespective of race or creed, through Christian Science channels in at least 13 foreign countries, according to the report of the Clerk of The Mother Church. In addition, over 550,000 handknitted garments were said to have been distributed among the armed forces.

In the field of legislation, a number of provisions favorable to Christian Science were included in state laws, city ordinances and in administrative regulations during 1945, it was reported by the Committee on Publication. Extreme alertness was the theme of this report in protecting "the constitutional and God-given rights of Christian Scientists" against health and social legislation which would interfere with the practice of their religion.

Announcement of the appointment of Luther Phillips Cudworth, C. S. B., of Boston, as President of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, was made today by The Christian Science Board of Directors.

Mr. Cudworth at various times has served as Purchasing Agent of The Christian Science Publishing Society, a Director of Christian Science Welfare Activities in Portsmouth (New Hampshire) Naval Prison, Committee on Publication for the State of Oregon, and as First Reader of First Church of Christ, Scientist,

He is a native of Iowa, receiving his early education in the Marshfield, Massachusetts. public schools of St. Paul, Minnesota, and later attending Harvard University and its College of Business Administration. Before devoting his entire time to Christian Science activities, he was associated with the printing and publishing business in St. Paul, and with the Portland, Oregon, Railway, Light and Power Company.

He received instruction in the Normal class of the Board of Education in 1934, and since that time has taught classes in Christian Science annually.

Volcanic Eruption

Krakatau volcano, in Sundra strait between Java and Sumatra, lay dormant from 1680 to 1883, then put on an extremely violent eruption that darkened and flooded Batavia, 100 miles away. The eruption completely changed the form of the three islands of the Krakatau group and created several new islets.
